LeRay Quick thought I was lucky, so he urged me to invest in one of those affairs which, if you hold the right ticket, you get something—otherwise just experience. I carried the little piece of paper with two numbers on it so long that they were hardly legible, but that didn't make any difference. LeRay came in to tell me that the ticket I should have bought was held by a man in San Diego. And then I recalled what Barnum said.

Now that the election in Huntington Beach is over and Ray Overacker had no competition for city attorney I want to congratulate him on his election. But before the votes were counted there was some adroit political maneuvering. Overacker held the office before a councilmanic turnover. Then something happened and he turned it back again. I'm not mixing up in Huntington Beach politics, but someone did, and Overacker is city attorney again.

And with the business houses, banks, title companies, courthouses and most everything else closed except the police station, collection of paragraphs was as easy as making a Fascist out of a Communist. All you need under those circumstances is an imagination, and then use it. So I just collected the "stuff" in this column Wednesday.

The visiting Glendale business men seemed a happy lot. Maybe business up there justifies the exuberance. Well, our boys went feelin' so bad, and President Roosevelt and Secretary Metzgar did not weaken. It was an occasion from which both sides benefited. The old axiom again: You like people better when you know them better.

And the fem friend called my attention to a new pearl-gray pleated satin dress, and wanted my opinion. I informed her that I never owned one of that particular pattern, but I had bought many of 'em. Styles change, and so do dispositions.

It could have been a 1938 model, but if it was it was exceptional. The back of that car was at a 45-degree angle. The passengers in the rear seat were either strapped in, or had braces for their heads. I looked once, and "Gee!" Gordon twice, and he decided he wasn't buying any used cars, no matter how badly used. Occasionally you see a freak car, but this one tipped so precariously forward that it attracted attention. Giving it more than the once over, I have decided the equilibrium was purely a matter of gravity.

Sumpin' goofy about the First and Main street signals. They do entirely too much winking. They must be of the flirting type. There is not only sumpin' wrong with their eyelashes, but their spacing system is cockeyed. Sometimes two cars get by before the signals change, and other times six. I didn't put in the signals, in the first place, only by remote contribution, being a taxpayer, but I have observed how they work when they work, and after some meditation I want to express my preference for the arm-and-eye system.

Somehow or other I have got the impression that Russia is a country where people live under the sword of Damocles. I've always thought I'd have indigestion eating under such tense circumstances.

I sat through that two-hour Legion parade at Fullerton, and was just about as red as if I had marched. You know, I am accustomed to walking.

And then there was the father who said he had not been home for one meal that day. Which introduced the subject of clubs, and their influence on home life. We are over organized. Most of us belong to so many lodges and clubs and organizations we lose domestic contact. Care of the

Irvine Co. Sues State Over Franchise Tax

REVEAL SALES OF $1,185,321 IN TEST CASE

Asks Refund, Says Law Unconstitutional

Heavy drapes of secrecy which enveloped the Irvine company, Orange county's largest single business, were brushed aside momentarily today as the company launched a test case against the California franchise tax law.

Gross sales by the company in 1934-35—a depression year—were $1,185,321.29.

This brief glimpse into the secrets of the multi-million dollar corporation of James Irvine, the county's wealthiest man, was afforded as he challenged the state of California in a suit for $5672.81 he claims is due as a refund on 1934-35 franchise taxes totaling $25,761.28.

TAX METHODS HIT
Practice of the state in taxing total business of the ranch company, instead of only that percentage done within the state, was attacked in the suit, filed in superior court here against Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer.

Violation of the interstate commerce clause and the due process clause of the U. S. constitution are charged in the complaint, filed for the corporation by James G. Scarborough, former Santa Ana attorney now a partner in the firm of Scarborough and Bowen of Los Angeles.

Far-reaching effects on state taxing procedure may follow should Irvine win the suit here. Countless other corporations doing both intrastate and interstate business, if they are now being taxed on total gross sales, would be freed of part of their past, present and future tax charges, causing a large drop in state income from that source.

REFUND IS SOUGHT
The state, Irvine argues, cannot tax interstate business—a power given only to congress by the constitution. Only $200,414.10 of the $1,185,321.29 gross sales in that tax year, he alleges, was from California business. Averaged franchise tax must be paid, the Irvine company's income is 72.30 per cent within the state and 27.70 per cent interstate, the complaint points out. Therefore the claims, on 72.30 per cent of gross sales and not on the entire amount. It is on that basis that he claims a refund.

A protest and request for refund of the amount were filed with Treasurer Johnson last Feb. 16, the complaint alleges, but Johnson took no action.

The gross sales figure, the complaint states, represents taxable gross sales, or the gross after returns and allowances were deducted.

Tax Boys Soften On Small Levies

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A house tax subcommittee talked today of aiding little business men by reducing the tax burden on perhaps 85 per cent of the nation's small firms. Chairman Vinson (D., Ky.) said some system might be worked out for graduating taxes on the small firms on a lowered level.

No decisions were made on how this might be done, he said, but "we are hoping to lessen their burden." He added: "They have more need of retaining their net income, relatively, to build up their businesses."

He said there was "quite some disparity" between the relative tax burdens of the small and large corporations. This disparity, he said, the subcommittee may attempt to remove in part.

In 1935, he said, 85 per cent of the corporations had a net income of less than $10,000. There is no question but that these fall in the category of small concerns, he said, but the committee probably will draw the line between small and big firms at some where above a $10,000 net income.

BRAZIL CALM IN REVOLT

RIO DE JANEIRO. (AP)—Foreign diplomats watched the unfolding of Brazil's new authoritarian program today with the assurance of Getulio Vargas' foreign minister that it was "neither fascist nor communist," but had "democracy as the basis."

President Vargas, who assumed wide dictatorial power by replacing Brazil's often suspended "liberal" constitution with an authoritarian document in a bloodless coup on Wednesday, was seeking to fill out his cabinet, which moved over into the new regime almost intact.

Five Children Die in Flames
OLIVET, Mich. (AP)—The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wigglesworth were burned to death today when fire destroyed the small building in which they had been living on the farm of Gordon Raymond, one and a half miles north of here.

The children's parents, with Raymond, who lived in the other end of the building, were in the barn when the flames broke out. Olivet firemen said the blaze was started either by an oil lamp or a small heating stove.

The children, ranging from a year and a half to 8 years, were in the same bed. The building in which they had been living, Olivet firemen said, had been converted from a trailer into a two-room dwelling.

REMOVAL OF PROPERTY IS RESISTED

Webb Asked to Aid In Settling Feud

Attorney General U. S. Webb was called upon today to settle a feud between officers and members of the Newport Beach self-help cooperative unit and state officials.

The feud came as a result of alleged attempts of officers of the division of self-help, state relief administration, to confiscate equipment at the Newport Beach project headquarters.

According to records at the Newport Beach police station, L. E. Hoover and J. H. Braisher, of the state division of self-help, came to Newport Beach with trucks and sought to move out project equipment assertedly the property of the state.

CO-OP STANDS PAT
They were reported to have charged that the beach group had violated a contract with the state and federal government in regard to use of equipment secured with government-loaned funds.

Through officers of the self-help unit, members of the cooperative refused to let the state officials take the equipment or even to enter the building, police said. The beach unit operates a cannery, farm and sorghum mill. Manager of the unit is "Shorty" Stearns. The unit is located on 29th street, and it was reported that officers of the cooperative on the building expires Nov. 15.

ASK WEBB'S AID
Today the state division of self-help officials communicated with Attorney General Webb to get an order for removal of the equipment at the cooperative headquarters.

The cooperatives are loaned money and equipment by the state. They are supposed to repay these loans with produce made at the various projects.

Albert Whelan, Los Angeles, head of the Southern California division of the self-help cooperatives, refused to comment on the situation today.

15 Known Dead In Manila Storm

MANILA. (AP)—Typhoon casualty lists thickened hourly today as reports came from seven provinces and Manila districts ravaged by yesterday's storm.

Known deaths tonight stood at 15, including 10 in Manila. Twenty persons were missing.

The Red Cross reported damage less extensive than at first believed, but some stricken areas will require relief.

Ready To Dry Off

Pretty Eleanor Holm Jarrett nodded approval today in Denver to Billy Rose's statement that they would be married just as soon as they could obtain divorces from their respective marital partners. "I'm ready to dry off, anyway," said Eleanor, former Olympic swimming champion and a star of Rose's aquacade at Chicago last summer.

Eleanor Holm to Wed Billy Rose

DENVER. (AP)—Showman Billy Rose said today he had discarded all "silly shenanigans" about concealing his romance with Eleanor Holm Jarrett and decided to declare publicly they would be married as soon as they were divorced from their present mates.

And when they were married, Rose said, Mrs. Jarrett will be simply his wife. Her careers as swimmer, movie player and actress in his huge stage spectacles will be "chucked," Mrs. Jarrett said only.

STEAL $12,000 AMID GUNFIRE
Rose said his divorce from Fannie Brice, comedienne, would be up to her. Mrs. Jarrett, he said, will take action to divorce her singer-husband, Arthur Jarrett, as soon as she completes retakes in Hollywood on her latest motion picture.

"I trust Miss Brice undoubtedly will get her divorce as soon as to my brother and me is that we (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

G-MEN FOIL TRY TO GET $50,000

One Arrested; Two Sought on Abduction Charges

WASHINGTON. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover said today that federal agents had arrested Arnett A. Booth at Huntington, W. Va., on charges of demanding $50,000 for the release of Dr. James I. Seder, 78-year-old former minister who was kidnapped from his Huntington home Nov. 1.

Hoover said Booth admitted to federal agents that he had participated in the abduction of Dr. Seder and in writing a $50,000 ransom letter Nov. 6. His confession, Hoover said, implicated Orville Atkins and John Travis, who are still at large.

Hoover said Dr. Seder was kidnapped by three men when he agreed to accompany them to assist in cashing a check.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 79-year-old dry leader and former missionary, found after being missing 11 days, recuperated from exhaustion and bruises in a hospital today while federal agents pressed an investigation into his disappearance.

The one-time head of the West Virginia Anti-Saloon league, Dr. James I. Seder, was found near a cave in a lonely wooded section 25 miles from Huntington yesterday by a farmer who heard him groaning.

Dr. Glenn Johnson of nearby Wayne gave emergency treatment and said both of Seder's eyes had been blackened, apparently by a blow.

CLAIMS KIDNAPERS
Albert Ronk, who found the retired evangelical minister and former missionary, said Dr. Seder told him he had been kidnapped and held captive by F. E. Vetterley of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, declined to discuss a kidnapping theory.

At the time Dr. Seder disappeared, Dr. Edward F. Reaser, psychiatrist of the Huntington state hospital, said he believed that the retired minister might have been suffering from a psychosis which sent him into hiding.

Willard Seder, a son and officer of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in Pittsburgh, said he was "not at liberty" to say whether he believed his father had been kidnapped or whether ransom had been demanded or paid. Willard and another son, Arthur Seder of St. Paul, came to Huntington to direct the search for their father.

Willard said: "The matter of prime concern to my brother and me is that we (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Jealousy Ends In Lurid Murder

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Glendale police testified at a coroner's office today how they found the bullet riddled bodies of Mrs. Evelyn Wright and John Kimmel sprawled in the living room of the Paul A. Wright residence early Tuesday after he had calmly telephoned them to come to the house.

"My God! I'm a murderer," Policeman H. W. Reed testified Wright exclaimed when they met him by appointment at Verdugo road and Verdugo Vista in the early morning house after his call.

"I've shot my wife and best friend," Reed quoted him as saying.

"Officer Trowbridge and myself went with Mr. Wright to the house. When we went inside Mr. Wright said, 'There they lie.' "What happened then," Coroner Frank Nance asked.

"Trowbridge took charge of Wright. I found Mrs. Wright had a slight pulse and Kimmel was groaning. I called an ambulance which took both bodies to the Physicians and Surgeons hospital."

Reed then went into detail as to the location of the bodies in the room, answering questions of the coroner, who then asked: "How many shots were fired?"

Reed: I understand there were three shots found in each body. Q. Was there a gun found?

Reed: Yes sir. A German gun about .54 caliber. Five shells were

Well—It Could Be New Industry

A love-lorn youth at St. Mary's college sought to turn the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce into a matrimonial bureau today, and to pin Cupid's wings on Secretary Howard I. Wood of the chamber.

The chamber received a letter, signed by "W," asking if it is true that couples can get married in Santa Ana secretly and without newspapers publishing the notices.

The youth asked the chamber to send him necessary marriage papers, saying that he would like to be married here if the secret arrangements can be carried out. Which hardly seems likely.

ANAHEIM FLOAT CAPTURES SWEEPSTAKES IN ARMISTICE PARADE

70,000 VIEW PROCESSION AT FULLERTON

By BOB GUILD
Orange county—70,000 strong—pledged itself again to peace yesterday at Fullerton.

The most tremendous holiday crowd in years jammed sidewalks, streets and building fronts for more than two hours as a parade of floats, bands and marching units rolled past.

Grand sweepstakes prize awards emphasized the peace motif of the day, as Anaheim's "Peace on Earth" float was awarded first place. Second prize went to the Newport Beach American Legion post, and third to the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans, Santa Ana.

Cheering thousands jammed the space before the judges' stand, where genial Bill Hayes of Amos and Andy fame described each entry in passing.

300 HORSEMEN RIDE

There were more than 30 decorated floats in the line of march, and approximately 300 in the equestrian division. Bands of high schools, cities and civic groups vied with drill teams and drum and bugle corps from veterans' organizations.

Prize awards from other divisions included:

Decorated cars—Grace Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, from Placentia.

Comic units—Isaac Walton league, Anaheim.

Military units—Company 1, National Guard, first; headquarters company, National Guard, second, and Company M of the guard, third.

Bands and drum corps—Fullerton municipal band, first; Huntington Beach municipal band, second. In the high school band division Fullerton was first, Anaheim second and Santa Ana third.

Anaheim captured the senior drum corps prize, followed by Santa Ana. The Newport Beach Boy Scouts took the junior prize, with Fullerton Troop 90 second.

S. A. MARCHERS WIN

Marching units—Santa Ana post 131, American Legion, first; Anaheim post 72, second, and Fullerton auxiliary, third.

Fraternal orders—Fullerton's Isaac Walton league of women's marching units, first; Homesteaders, second, and Fullerton DeMolay, third.

In the boy and girl scout divisions, Santa Ana Troop 26 took first place, followed by Huntington Beach Troop one, Girl Scouts and La Habra Troop 96.

Riding club prizes went to the Long Beach Buckaroos, first; Santa Ana Saddle Pals, second; Huntington Beach Boot and Spur club, third. Special awards were given the Mexican group, Whittier; El Rodeo, Placentia, and the La Habra Riding club.

RIDERS GET PRIZES

Individual awards in the horse division included:

Men's silver mount—First, John Wagner, Placentia; second, Harry Merrill, Garden Grove; third, Don Weaver, Azusa.

Ladies' silver mount—First, Mrs. Loretta Macbeth, Anaheim; second, Mrs. McAllister, Whittier; third, Mrs. Otto McClure, Santa Ana.

MINISTER EXPLAINS

Foreign Minister Mario de Pimentel Brandao, elaborating on previous government assurances that the dictatorial powers were necessitated by Brazilian unrest, told Rio de Janeiro's diplomatic corps that Vargas' action was dictated by demands from all parts of Brazil "for a solution to the manifest crisis."

"Having promulgated the new constitution in such a way as not to injure democracy or the representative system, the administration has democracy as the basis for the new program," the foreign minister said.

(The new constitution provided for a two-house legislature but reserved to the president broad powers to initiate and guide legislation. It was placed in effect immediately, to be passed upon in a plebiscite to be held at the discretion of the chief executive.)

FASCISTS TURNED DOWN

It was reliably learned that Italian and German envoys to Brazil had made overtures to gain Brazilian adherence to the Italian-German-Japanese anti-Communism pact but had been turned down.

A Berlin dispatch said Nazi circles held high hope Brazil would join the anti-comintern front.

There are 800,000 Germans in Brazil, not including Brazilians of German origin. Their support of the new regime was regarded as likely to react favorably on Brazilian-German commercial relations.

In Tokyo, the foreign office said it had no official information on the Brazilian coup. A spokesman explained that the anti-Communism pact was open to all nations with ideological positions similar to those of Italy, Germany and Japan but "I am unable to say at present whether Brazil will be invited to join."

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt declined comment today on the new corporate form of government set up in Brazil.

He referred all inquiries about the set-up there to the state department when asked at a press conference if the new government would have any effect on the Monroe Doctrine, or the monetary arrangement between Brazil and the United States.

'BOOKIE SHOP' HEARING STARTS

A "legal bookie" went to court this afternoon in an attempt to prevent interference by legal authorities with the Santa Ana Forfeiture company, which takes bets on horse races.

Presiding Supervisor Judge H. G. Ames was to hear attorneys' arguments this afternoon on Sam Winogura's complaint for a permanent injunction against Sheriff Logan Jackson, Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton and Police Chief Floyd Howard, restraining them from interfering with his establishment, at 416 West Fourth street.

Jackson and Menton, through Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner, have filed a demurrer to Winogura's complaint and a motion to dissolve the temporary restraining order and dismiss the action, which will be argued at the same time. They allege Winogura's complaint attempts to interfere with execution of the law by officers.

Church and civic groups, as well as city and county officials, have protested operation of the company, which takes a 10 per cent commission on bets assertedly forwarded to Bay Meadows race track.

Wallace C. Ochs, 26, will spend from five years to life in San Quentin penitentiary, as the result of a burglary at the Majestic Ice Cream company, Fifth and Main streets, last Oct. 25.

Superior Judge James L. Allen denied Ochs' probation on his plea of guilty today, and sentenced him to San Quentin on burglary and grand theft charges. Ochs formerly was an employee of the ice cream company, and was charged with stealing $330, then returning after he left the company and stealing several mixing machines from the store.

SOVIETS CHASE JAPAN BOAT

American church mission hospital at Wushu, 80 miles northwest of Shanghai, killing 20 Chinese staff members. Five Americans escaped injury.

A check by French concession police showed 14 persons were killed and 16 wounded in the concession yesterday. A number of American and foreign newspapermen and photographers were endangered as they watched yesterday's battle.

PEIPING, (AP)—Independent reports reaching here today from the vicinity of Paotinfu, Hopeh province capital, said that in the southern part of the province thousands of armed Chinese stragglers waged guerrilla warfare against Japanese invaders.

JAPS REFUSE PEACE

TOKYO, (AP)—Japan formally refused today a second invitation to participate in the Brussels conference on the Far Eastern war.

The Imperial government's note declared, however, that Japan "would be glad if the powers should contribute to the stabilization of Eastern Asia in a manner consonant with the realities of the situation."

In a note handed to Belgian Ambassador Baron Albert De Bassompierre, the Japanese government repeated the argument that Japanese military operations in China were in self-defense and asserted that the conflict "lies outside" the scope of the nine-power treaty.

Japan is a signatory of the nine-power pact which guarantees the territorial integrity of China and under which the Brussels conference was called.

U. S. MAY INTERVENE

BRUSSELS, (AP)—An authoritative Japanese source declared today the United States, acting for itself, still had "a ticket of entry" to discuss Far Eastern peace with Japan, despite Tokyo's refusal of the Brussels conference mediation appeal.

This source said the United States ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Drew, could always approach the Japanese foreign office to discuss the Chinese-Japanese conflict from the standpoint of heavy American interests involved.

The statement bore out in a general way the attitude Japan disclosed before opening of the conference here, called under the nine-power pact guaranteeing China's territorial integrity.

The Japanese view was that activities of Ambassador Grew and Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson at Nanking, starting from the standpoint of American interests and entirely divorced from the Brussels conference or the League of Nations, might develop ways and means towards peace.

A proposal by China's Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo for "moral, diplomatic and economic restraint" of aggression excited comment today among Far Eastern peace conferees.

Some diplomatic quarters believed Dr. Koo's suggestion—made in an Armistice day broadcast to the United States—might have been inspired, inasmuch as it followed a lengthy talk with the chief delegates of the United States, Britain and France.

Had Stabbing Pains in Knees and Ankles and Was Almost Helpless with Pain—But Then This 70-Year-Old Man Found Quick Relief By Using Army Doctor's Formula!

"For two years I went through agonies with rheumatic pain. My knees and ankles caused me excruciating agony and would swell up, until I was practically helpless. The pain kept me awake nights, and I hardly got enough rest to keep me alive. Then I decided to try RUX and it gave me relief right from the first dose! Now the swelling has gone down, and I can do my work on the ranch. I am 70 years old, but feel stronger than I have for years."

have our father back and his chances of surviving are excellent."

In Dr. Johnson's office, Dr. Seder exclaimed:

"It is like heaven to be here. The rain—it seemed like days and there were sharp stones as I groped around trying to get out."

Blood-stained bed clothing lay in a cave near the spot where Dr. Seder was found and the Huntington Herald-Dispatch said it had learned it was from the Seder home in Huntington. Vetterle declined to discuss its bearing on the investigation.

Relatives barred visitors from Dr. Seder's room at the hospital but attendants said his condition was fair.

Justice department records show Booth was released from the West Virginia state penitentiary last Jan. 29 when he was pardoned after serving 10 months of a five year sentence for attempted rape.

Travis, also 24, was arrested for automobile theft at Circleville, Ohio, in 1935 and was sentenced to serve from 1 to 2 years.

Hoover said Booth was a tenant of Dr. Seder's and had enlisted the former minister's aid in establishing credit with a local merchant so he could cash a $30 check. The check was returned as void and on Nov. 1 Booth went back to Dr. Seder with a check for $60. He told Dr. Seder he would pay him $30 on the first check if Seder would help him cash the $60 check.

Dr. Seder left his home in an automobile which Director Hoover said was occupied by Booth, Atkins and Travis. Instead of taking him to town, he said, they drove him to the farm near Wayne. The case became a federal one on Nov. 6 when the ransom note was delivered. Hoover declared federal charges would be filed against the three men at Huntington today.

Navy Orders New Ships to Pacific

Charged with felony drunk driving after an auto crash on Newport boulevard last April 18 which injured six persons, Vance Reed pleaded guilty today in superior court. Judge James L. Allen set probation, hearing for next Friday.

Kraemer Estate Pays Inheritance Tax of $10,660

Exact amount of the huge Samuel Kraemer estate remained a question today, with appraisal of the property left by the wealthy rancher still not reported, as the three executors of Mr. Kraemer's will paid $10,660.46 to County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson as 95 per cent of inheritance taxes due.

Mr. Kraemer died last May 9, leaving a 1412-acre ranch and extensive oil holdings, as well as a large amount of valuable business property in Anaheim. Cash bequests alone in his will totaled $135,000; and his widow, Mrs. Angelina Kraemer, is now receiving $1000 a month widow's allowance pending settlement of the estate.

HIGHWAY PATROL WILL WAR AGAINST HEADLIGHT GLARE

DIMMER LAW VIOLATORS CAUTIONED

Dark Days Ahead For Drivers With Too-Bright Lights

Dimming of headlights when meeting oncoming vehicles is no longer merely a courtesy, but now is a state law, Chief E. Raymond Cato of the California highway patrol emphasized in a statement today.

The dimming law passed by the 1937 legislature and now in full effect, Cato stressed, makes glaring headlights a glaring violation of the law and rules of the road.

"Under this new provision the dimming of headlights passes out of the 'courtesy code' and becomes a part of the motor vehicle code," Cato declared. "Officers of the patrol have been instructed to watch for those who refuse to dim their headlights and by this refusal imperil other motorists."

The new law specifies that headlights be dimmed when the motorist approaches within 500 feet of the oncoming vehicle and that they remain dimmed until the vehicles have passed. Penalty for the offense provides a $50 fine, a five-day jail sentence or both for the first offense, while "repeaters" may be fined up to $500, given a six-months' jail sentence or both.

Wouldn't Salute Flag, So Farmers Convict Neighbor

NEW YORK, (Special)—A patriotic jury of six ruddy Long Island farmers last night convicted two of their neighbors whose 13-year-old daughter, Grace Sandstrom, "Jehovah Witness" cultist, refused to salute the American flag in school.

The verdict was returned against Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sandstrom at 6:10 p. m., in an emergency courtroom over the firehouse at Centereach, L. I. The jury deliberated an hour.

Justice of the Peace Harold C. Sorenson imposed a penalty of ten days in jail or $10 fine. Then he suspended sentence.

Arthur Garfield Hays, representing the Civil Liberties Union, compared the prosecution to the famous Scopes "monkey trial" in Tennessee. He immediately announced he would appeal the verdict.

"I am astonished to find religious persecution in this civilized part of Long Island," he told the jury.

The child's parents were accused by Assistant District Attorney Frank J. McMahon of keeping her out of school by teaching her not to salute the flag. When she went to school and refused, the principal sent her home.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—James B. Fox, 21, sailor on the U. S. S. Medusa, was struck and killed by an automobile here today.

SEARCH FOR DEATH CAR FUTILE

Chances of apprehending the hit-run driver who struck and killed 14-year-old Donald Hachez of South Laguna Wednesday night, today began to look as hopeless as Orange county peace officers as was a similar quest less than two months ago.

Hoping officers' meager clues would lead to an immediate arrest of the death-car's driver, Coroner Earl Abbey declined to set the time of an inquest.

SECOND DEATH

Young Hachez's death was the second in the past two months caused by unidentified hit-run driver. On Sept. 14, Ramon Segura, 14, lay dead on a highway near Irvine, killed by a driver who never has been found.

There were no serious injuries on the county's highways during yesterday's Armistice day celebration, despite the fact that thousands of cars swarmed every major street in the Fullerton district for the annual peace parade.

WOMAN INJURED

Daisy Lee Worchester, 50, San Diego, was slightly injured Wednesday when her car and one driven by John Earl Beck, 26, 428 South Orange street, Orange, collided at Tustin avenue and Seventeenth street a mile east of Santa Ana.

STOVE TO BE COOK SCHOOL GRAND PRIZE

Some lucky Santa Ana woman will be the proud owner of a brand new beautiful and efficient Hot Point electric range, when The Journal's all-electric cooking school, to be presented in the Fox West Coast theater Nov. 17, 18 and 19, is completed next Friday.

More than 100 other women will receive valuable minor prizes, including electric appliances, furnishings, and groceries. Dozens of gifts will be donated each day by merchants of Santa Ana.

Miss Kay Gilbert, nationally known cooking expert, will conduct the sessions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The classes will begin promptly at 9:30 a. m. and close at 11:30 a. m., in order that busy housewives may return to their homes in time to prepare lunches. Doors of the theater will open at 8:30 each morning.

James Adams, advertising manager of The Journal, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Miss Gilbert told The Journal today that the object of her "School of Modern Living," as she terms it, will be to teach importance of budgeting money, time and energy in the home, and to show how electrical equipment has an important and valuable place on such a program. New and easier ways to do every-day tasks will be given, and suggestions and gamashes for both family and holiday meals will be demon-

CITRUS FIGHT UNDER WAY IN FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Florida's greatest citrus crop is rolling to market or ripening on trees today while a controversy whirls within the industry.

After a year of rigid control under a federal marketing agreement, shipments are being made this season with the laws of nature alone in command.

Leaders say everybody agrees a new federal marketing pact is desirable. But some want continuous control, others want control interspersed with periods of unlimited shipments.

Meantime a crop of approximately 24,000,000 boxes of oranges and 13,000,000 boxes of grapefruit is ripening in ever increasing quantities.

C. C. Commander, general manager of the Florida Citrus exchange, said prices have been fair this season, but better averages could have been had with a citrus marketing pact.

VOTE FRAUD CAUSES N. Y. SCANDAL

NEW YORK, (AP) — This city's first proportional representation election tally was fast developing into a major vote fraud scandal as police today impounded 3000 more ballots in The Bronx.

The ballots seized brought the total of impounded ballots in The Bronx to 7500, or approximately two per cent of the estimated vote cast there.

The seized ballots allegedly were tampered with by the 10-a-day special canvassers, many of whom have been the target of general charges of dilatoriness and obstructionists tactics to give "P. R." a bad name. Today's ballot seizure was ordered by Special Assistant Attorney General Matthew M. Levy and Acting District Attorney Sylvester Ryan of The Bronx. The ballots will be submitted to the Bronx grand jury in an investigation in which four canvassers already are under arrest.

The tally in The Bronx resumed today despite the impounding of ballots, through a separate count of impounded ballots in the district attorney's headquarters set up in the armory where the borough count is in progress.

Samuel Seabury, vigorous champion of "P. R." blamed complications of the tally on "the bungling of machine politicians."

War Veteran Dies in Parade

SAN DIEGO, (AP) — Peter Mitchell, 48-year-old disabled veteran of the World war, marched in his last Armistice Day parade yesterday.

Mitchell, carrying an American flag, was stricken with a heart attack as he marched up Broadway with his comrades. He collapsed and died before an ambulance reached him. The parade halted momentarily, then moved on.

Postoffice Relaxes Holiday Mail Rule

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Christmas stamps, seals and labels to aid charitable objects may not be attached to the address side of mail under postal regulations. Mail bearing such stamps must be sent to the dead letter offices or returned to senders under the rule.

Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general, has just informed postmasters, however, that as an exceptional measure these rules are suspended from November 15 to January 15 this season if, through inadvertence, senders have affixed such stamps to the address side. In previous years much Christmas mail bearing the stamps on the address side has been held up.

Girls Like the Sea More Than Boys Do

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — The young Englishman of today does not seem to want to go to sea, but there is no lack of applications from girls.

"More girls than we can hope to take or in 50 years write every week to shipping companies for jobs on ships," says Capt. W. V. J. Clarke of the Shipping Federation. "Modern boys want to wear collars and ties. Parents say they find it difficult to discover what their children want to do except that it shall be something that will not make their hands dirty."

Broadcasts to Sick Husband

HAMILTON, Ont. (American Wire) — A short wave radio has kept Earl Smith, 26, in touch with his family since he was taken to the hospital with infantile paralysis. He hears his wife broadcast report of household news three times a day.

STREAMLINED ARMY FOR U. S. SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The war department is considering the advisability of virtually reorganizing the army as the result of tests of a "streamlined" division just completed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Officials said today there probably would be several weeks' study of this division's extensive field maneuvers before a decision is reached by Secretary Woodring.

The "streamlined" division is composed of 13,512 officers and men, compared with 22,000 in present divisions. It seeks to utilize advantages of motorization and mechanization.

During the World war the army division had 27,000 men, but experience then demonstrated this was too large for greatest efficiency, and the size was reduced by 5000 men.

The new division abandons for the first time the principle that an army division must be self-contained.

Aged Stagecoach Driver Is Dead

TUSCON, Ariz., (AP) — Jesus Valencia Garcia, 97, Arizona stage coach driver, Indian fighter, circus performer and soldier, died here last night.

Born in 1840 in Hermosillo, Mexico, Garcia came to Tucson when he was 20 to work as a cowboy. He drove the stage from this city to the border, and later as guard on the coach ward off numerous attacks by Indians.

While a soldier he fought the Indians, and for five years was a trapeze performer, tight wire walker and clown in a circus.

CANADIANS FEAR WAR IN EUROPE

VANCOUVER, B. C. (American Wire)—Vancouver looks forward to 1938 as a banner year, following the big upswing of 1937—but there is fear in the public mind of two possible events which may hinder progress.

One is the possible collapse of the "Social Credit" government in neighboring Alberta with an attendant migration of thousands of impoverished families into British Columbia.

The second fear is war.

FAMILIES MOVE IN

Already the province has a serious problem on its hands due to the influx of families from Alberta. The district of Surrey, for example, has received more than 1000 persons from Alberta the last year—and these, in the main, are jobless and have to be housed and clothed by British Columbia.

Those who have moved into British Columbia, so far, have moved into the green west because of the Canadian mid-west drought, but it is feared that if Alberta's already strained credit line snaps, more and more jobless persons, disgusted at the failure of Alberta's $25-a-month-to-everybody social credit scheme, will move out to prosperous British Columbia.

BECOME BURDENS

The province welcomes new citizens who can take care of themselves, but newspapers and cities are warning easterners not to move in and become burdens on the community.

The war scare in Canada is more than economic—it is a social problem in a country which was bled white of its finest young men in the last war.

"If England gets into a war, there is no doubt that Canada as a part of the empire will have to go in," a prominent Canadian official, and veteran of the last war, said. "But we don't want to go in. Our Canadians, along with the New Zealanders and Australians, bore the brunt of battle for Britain, and we don't want to do so again."

MUCH WAR TALK

On Canadian street cars, in hotel lobbies, in stores and restaurants, the talk is all of war. The general opinion here is that if England goes into a war, it will be over the Chinese situation, rather than over any current situation on the continent.

"The British government is an empire, and if it is to exist as an empire, it has to keep up prestige all over the world, and can't abandon its holdings in Shanghai," one man said. "You Americans are lucky—being a self-contained nation, and not a far-flung empire, it will be so easy for you to keep out of any coming war."

St. Louis 'Y' • Adopts Old Indian Custom

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—An ancient custom of the Hudson Bay Indians, modernized by the St. Louis Y. M. C. A., has led to a new "father-son" plan which is being launched on a national scale.

The custom is that of the Hudson Bay Indian hunters and warriors making pals of their sons, allowing them to participate in their expeditions, teaching them the native crafts, arts and lore.

The modern version is found in a new national organization, "Indian Guides," first requirements of which are that fathers and sons join at the same time, attend meetings together, take the same tests, work jointly on craft projects.

Harold S. Keltner, St. Louis "Y" secretary, conceived the plan after study of the amazing precocity of Ojibway Indian youths.

Ten years ago, Keltner, on a hunting and fishing trip in the Hudson Bay country, met Joe Friday, an Ojibway guide. With Friday's help, Keltner studied the close companionship of Ojibway boys and their fathers.

"It seemed just what we needed," says Keltner. "Most American dads are too glad to 'farm out' their sons to community institutions for training. In later years, the father wonders why he and his son have grown apart; why the boy places some one else first in his confidence and companionship."

Keltner obtained Friday's assistance and together they formed the first "Indian Guide" tribe. Popularity of organization here has led to adoption nationally by the Y. M. C. A.

Catfish Pull Old Rabbit Trick

CRANE, Mo. (AP)—Alba Williams has first hand knowledge now on the reproduction abilities of the catfish.

He tossed five fish into a pond near his home five years ago.

Two years ago he had to call on the game warden for help. There were so many catfish in the pond it was seriously overstocked. The warden removed 1500.

Now Williams is asking the warden's aid again. Once more the pond has too many fish.

Fowl Cannibalism Cut by Oat Feed

PUTALLUP, Wash. (AP)—Early experiments, indicating oat feeding reduced cannibalism among chickens, have been confirmed in a year's test just completed at the Western Washington Experiment station. It was demonstrated the oat hull provides the necessary diet element.

NEW TERMITE PEST KILLS CITRUS TREES

BERKELEY. — Paraneotermes, the type of termite which in recent years has been found to be a quick and completely hidden destroyer of young citrus trees, is made the subject of an exhaustive study just published by Professor S. F. Light, department of zoology, University of California.

While the economic importance of the pest as yet remains negligible insofar as living plants are concerned, due to its limited range in the state, there is no question about its destructiveness in this regard, Professor Light's study reveals.

CONFINED TO DESERT

In California the termite appears to be confined to the Mojave and Colorado deserts. But where its range has been invaded by the agriculturist, destruction has followed, and there are indications, also that this range may be wider than is evident at present. In the Coachella valley the pest has been found in dead cottonwood and pepper trees and living hedge plants, and has attacked young citrus trees.

The pest is a subterranean borer, which makes it difficult to detect until the damage is done. Swarming has never been observed scientifically, but probably occurs at times between May and late November. The citrus trees attacked die very suddenly. The first visible indication is wilting of leaves, which quickly wither and die.

ATTACKS AT ROOTS

The destruction wrought on young citrus trees by the pest is particularly complete. Photographs obtained by Professor Light show a tree entirely cut off from its root system by two horizontal cuts made by the termites. Unlike other termite species, the Paraneotermes work outside the wood, approaching it from below the level of the ground. Experiments made with stakes in the ground and with pieces of wood placed in glass containers, proved both the method and destructiveness of this pest.

MARTIAL LAW ENDS AT TRACK

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP)—Lieutenant Governor Raymond E. Jordan today at Providence issued a proclamation terminating martial law at Narragansett race track.

As acting governor, in the absence of Washington of Governor Robert E. Quinn, Jordan said he issued the proclamation with Quinn's approval after conferring with him by telephone.

Quinn stationed the soldiers about Walter E. O'Hara's costly plant Oct. 17, a day before the scheduled opening of Narragansett's fall meeting. He said he acted to quell "insurrection" there.

For three and a half weeks troops prevented racing, though the race secretary posted entries each day and regularly scratched them a few hours before post time.

The period for which Narragansett held a license to conduct a meeting ended yesterday.

LONG NON-STOP FLIGHT PLANNED

SYDNEY, N. S. W. (American Wire)—A non-stop flight from England to Australia may be undertaken next year as part of the celebration of Australia's 150th birthday, according to officials of the Royal Australian Air Force. The distance is 10,500 miles, necessitating refueling in the air.

Fire Endangers Frisco District

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Fire swept through a large section of Frisco hall on Market street early today causing about $25,000 damage and injuring two firemen.

Patrick Duffy, 40, was burned about the hands, and James Rafferty was overcome by smoke as they tried to reach the rear of the building where the fire was believed to have started.

The entire first floor was virtually destroyed and a large stage in Moose auditorium on the second floor collapsed.

British Fishing Hurt By Sharks

LONDON, (American Wire)—A death of herring believed caused by the giant basking shark noted off the coasts of Scotland and Wales recently has caused a scarcity of salmon and trout from the streams they usually frequent at this time, according to the ministry of agriculture and fisheries. The British fishing industry's income will be several hundred thousand dollars less than usual as a result, it is estimated.

No Dinosaur Eggs In North America

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, Canada. (American Wire).—Mongolian eggs are found. What was thought to be a nest of such eggs discovered last year near here by a road crew is a limestone-clay formation, according to Herbert Knight, park superintendent, who had scientists examine them.

Garner Tips Shineboy Dime, New Economy Program Seen

ST. LOUIS. (AP)—Vice President John H. Garner made a bee line for a barber shop when he arrived today from San Antonio, Tex., en route to Washington, and emphatically declined to discuss politics.

For 25 minutes the vice president relaxed for a shave at the hands of Dexter Davis, union station barber who has had Mr. Garner in his chair four of the eight times in recent years he has stopped here.

Then he rejoined Mrs. Garner and boarded a train for the capital.

Waving away questioners who sought his comment on whether congress would repeal or amend the undistributed profits tax or would cooperate in balancing the budget, the ruddy faced Texan remarked that he felt fit for the special session starting next Monday.

He allowed one of the few who met him to feel the hard, firm muscles of his right arm.

As he left the barber shop he handed the negro shine boy a quarter.

"Thank you, suh," smiled the boy.

"That's a quarter," reminded Garner.

"Yes, suh, I know it's a quarter," replied the boy.

"Well, I want some change," Garner demanded.

NOBLE FACES JAIL SENTENCE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Robert Noble, 40, old age pension plan promoter, and two women followers today faced possible jail sentences of 180 days or maximum fines of $500 each as a result of their conviction last night of parading without a permit.

Noble, Maggie Dee, 50, school teacher, and Mrs. Viola Moore, 68, widow, were convicted on charges growing out of a demonstration at a radio station last Oct. 17. Theodore Hall, another defendant, was acquitted. All were found innocent of blocking a sidewalk and refusing to disperse.

As the trial opened Noble announced he would run for governor on his "$25 Every Monday Morning" pension plan, saying a campaign slogan would be "Poison the politicians and purify the state." His lawyer gave oral notice of appeal.

Fear 500 Dead In Avalanche

TOKYO. (AP)—Rescue crews were dispatched today to a small mining town in Central Honshu which was reported engulfed with its 500 residents, in a gigantic avalanche.

The newspaper Asahi, reporting the tragedy, said melting snows on the eastern side of Mount Komagatah probably caused the landslide. It shaved off a mountainside forest and crashed down upon some 350 miners' houses in the village of Tsumagori. A dynamite storehouse exploded. Fire swept the buildings that escaped the slide.

Explosion Kills School Student

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Injuries suffered by Roger S. Lumbard, 17, New Bedford Textile school student in an explosion during a gunpowder-making experiment at the school Wednesday, resulted in his death today.

School officials said the experiment was unauthorized.

SEEKS DROP IN ELECTRIC RATE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would talk with private power utility executives next week, presumably about his effort to get them to lower property valuations with a view to bringing down electric rates.

He told a press conference he did not know whether they would take up the need for construction in the utility field. A lag in such construction has been mentioned in recent presidential conferences on methods to induce private capital to go into the housing and heavy building field.

In the housing study, the president said two prime factors were being given attention—to get capital to go into the field and to gain the double objective of low interest and low building costs.

MOVIE LABOR QUIZ OPENED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Inside workings of Hollywood's great union labor organization came in for a public airing today with the state assembly interim committee on labor calling its first session.

"If this investigation develops into an honest attempt to show up racketeering in a labor union, I believe the people should know all about it," said Kenneth B. Dawson of San Francisco, member of the committee.

The investigation as its purpose to uncover publicly for the first time the detailed finances and method of operation of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, an A. F. of L. affiliate which dominates film-dom's union labor activities.

Government Rests Conspiracy Case

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The government rested its gasoline price fixing conspiracy case against 19 oil companies and 45 individuals at the end of the sixth week of trial today, after dismissal of charges against seven corporations and one individual.

JUDGE RULES CLOSED SHOP IS VALID

NEW YORK. (AP)—Justice Mitchell May of Brooklyn supreme court ruled today that the closed shop is constitutional in New York state and denied the request of six subway employees that they not be forced to join a union, to hold their jobs.

The subway workers, claiming the closed shop violated their constitutional right to earn livelihoods, brought suit to enjoin the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit and the Transport Workers Union of America, a CIO affiliate, from enforcing the closed shop agreement under which employees in certain classifications will be discharged unless they are union members by tonight.

The agreement between the company and the union, signed Oct. 11, gave employees one month to join the union.

In denying the injunction, Justice May asserted: "A contract between employer and union, providing for what is commonly known as a closed shop, is in consonance with the public policy of the state as expressed by its legislature."

FLIER MAKES $4000 GIFT

Four thousand silver dollars flew to Santa Ana today, piloted to the First Presbyterian church by Glenn L. Martin, famous airplane manufacturer and former Santa Ana aviator.

Martin sent the money here to help purchase new seats for the remodeled church. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, said that the gift was made to honor the memory of Martin's father, the late O. Y. Martin.

A bronze plaque will be hung in the church lobby to honor the memorial donation.

Glenn Martin, now manufacturing planes in Baltimore, Md., was an early-day pilot in Santa Ana. He built his first plane in an old church here, and was the first to fly over water from Newport Beach to Catalina Island.

Recently he re-enacted that trip in his modern China Clipper, the flight being made on the 25th anniversary of the perilous hop in the first Martin plane.

Kidnaper Is Captured by Angered Victim

KANSAS CITY. (AP)—The kidnap got away, but 19-year-old Irene Markley got his gun and hat.

Miss Markley and Ernest F. Fleenor, 25, were sitting in Fleenor's car at her Paola, Kas., home last midnight when the man robbed them of $12 and ordered them to drive him here. He locked Fleenor in the coupe's turnduck.

"Say," Miss Markley asked the kidnap, "How are we going to get back to Paola without any money for gas?"

"When he reached in his pocket," she told police, "I grabbed his revolver from a coat pocket."

She forced the man to free Fleenor, but he struck Miss Markley with his fist and fled.

Orange county Townsendites will eat oysters and hear a well-known speaker at a mass meeting tomorrow evening in the Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street, J. H. Walsh announced today.

John Weir, well-known Pacific coast attaché of Dr. Townsend, will be speaker, Walsh announced, adding that the oyster supper will start at 6 p. m. Mrs. Ida L. Ewing and Mrs. Della C. Schmidt will be in charge of the serving. Mrs. Enid Wilson of Tustin will be song leader, and Mrs. Harriet Benton, pianist, he added.

ACTORS VOTE ON AWARDS

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The rank and file of filmland will have a voice in naming the best actor and best actress of 1937.

At least 12,000 ballots, instead of the usual 1000, will decide the winners of Motion Picture Academy statuettes—those golden symbols of perfection which are known irreverently as "Oscars."

Such was the prospect today as the Screen Actors' guild accepted the invitation of Frank Capra, academy president, to take part in selecting the most distinguished achievements in the varied phases of film production.

Similar invitations have been extended to organizations of writers, directors and others, with favorable replies expected.

"The stand of the actors' guild is in contrast to its boycott of the academy several years ago for begin "producer controlled." Last summer the actors won a "guild contract" in the industry.

306 EGGS FOR ONE HEN

FORT ATKINSON, Wis. (AP)—A white leghorn hen owned by the Mueller-Cory Hatchery, under state supervision, produced a total of 306 eggs in a first-year record. The eggs average nearly 26 ounces per dozen. The hen weighs four and a half pounds, and during the year laid eggs weighing more than 10 times her body weight. Only 12 Wisconsin hens have laid more than 300 eggs in a year.

Water Spoiled By Highway Material

NEW YORK. (American Wire.) Water supplies of hundreds of cities are being threatened by the use of tar on roads, according to the American Institute of Sanitation. The tar contains small amounts of phenolic chemicals which are washed to lakes, rivers and reservoirs. Only a few drops will give a million gallons of chlorinated water a pungent, medicinal taste rendering it undrinkable. It is tasteless in ordinary water.

PURPOSES OF JOB CENSUS OUTLINED

Complete questions and answers regarding the national unemployment census to be taken in Orange county and all other parts of the nation Nov. 16 through Nov. 20, were made public today.

The questions and answers were supplied by John D. Biggers, administrator of the census of partial employment, employment and occupations, through Mayor Fred C. Rowland, chairman of the local committee in charge of the program.

Following are the questions and answers:

1. What is purpose of the unemployment census? To get an accurate count of the unemployed and partly unemployed.

2. To whom will cards be sent? To every family in the United States.

3. Under whose auspices is the census being taken? Congress has decreed, and the President has directed, that it be taken.

4. Is the census compulsory? No. But every unemployed or partly unemployed person is urged to cooperate.

5. How will the census be conducted? Through the facilities of the post office department. Report cards will be delivered to every family. Cards are to be returned by mail to Washington for tabulation and analysis.

6. When will the census be taken? Cards will be delivered on Nov. 16 and must be returned by midnight Nov. 20. They are already addressed and no postage is required.

7. Who should fill and return cards? Every person who is unemployed or partly unemployed who is able to work and wants work.

8. What age limits apply? There are no age limits except State regulations concerning workers' ages.

9. Should more than one unemployed person in a family return a card? Yes. Every unemployed member of a family should fill out and return a card, if able to work and seeking work.

10. Where may additional cards be obtained? At any post office or from your postman.

11. Where can information be secured in filling out cards? At your post office or from your postman.

12. Is this census confined to American citizens? No. All permanent residents of the United States are included.

13. Is the information given on the cards to be considered confidential? Yes. This information will be used for unemployment statistics only.

14. Should every question of the census card be answered? Yes. To obtain the most accurate information possible, the President asks that each question be answered. Numbers 9 and 10 are particularly important. However, failure to answer some of the questions will not invalidate the card.

15. Who is an "unemployed" person? A person of either sex or any color who is not working and is able to work and seeking work.

16. Who is a "partly unemployed" person? A person of either sex or any color with part-time employment who is able to do more work and is looking for more work.

17. Are persons on emergency work projects included? Yes. They should register as unemployed. A specific question, Number 2c, is provided on the Report Card for all persons working on a WPA, NYA, CCC, or other emergency work project which is supported by public funds.

JEALOUSY ENDS IN MURDER

were asked of several witnesses and then Coroner Nance called Mrs. Leona Navy, the Wright's maid, to the stand.

MAID TESTIFIES

She testified she heard Wright and Kimmel return home about 2 a. m.

Q. Did you hear any noises that night?

Mrs. Navy: Yes, sir. About 2 o'clock two men walked by my window and a few minutes later I heard some laughter in the front of the house and I went to sleep.

About ten minutes later I heard the piano playing and went back to sleep.

Q. Did you hear any shots fired?

Mrs. Navy: Yes, sir. About 20 minutes afterward I heard what I thought were three shots. I thought they were firecrackers. So I just pulled the sheet over my head and went back to sleep.

"CHEATING ON ME"

Q. Did you get up at all that night?

Mrs. Navy: Yes, sir. I heard an ambulance come into the driveway some time later and then I went to the window and saw them carry somebody on a stretcher to the ambulance. I saw it was Mrs. Wright. I threw on some clothes and rushed to the front of the house, where I saw Mr. Wright.

Q. What did he say?

Mrs. Navy: Well, first I said "What happened?" What happened?" and then he said "Leona, I shot and killed my wife. She was cheating on me. Whatever you do, Leona, take care of Helen." (The Wrights' three-year-old daughter.)

CORONER'S JURY INVESTIGATES SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A coroner's jury today investigated the "white flame" slaying by Paul Wright, Glendale airport manager, of his wife and John B. Kimmel, his close friend, at the Wright home last Tuesday.

In his statement to police, Wright was quoted as saying when he saw his wife and Kimmel embracing, "there was a sheet of white flame before my eyes as I ran into the bedroom, dashed back with the gun and fired blindly."

Meanwhile Defense Lawyer Jerry Geisler said the fact his client had undergone a sterilization operation in Chicago two years ago to save his wife the danger of another childbirth "undoubtedly" would form the basis of his defense.

Geisler said surgeons and alienists would be subpoenaed to "give important testimony as to the possibility both Wright and his wife were rendered emotionally unstable as an aftermath of the steps Wright took to spare his wife the dangerous ordeal of future childbirth."

"A man who is willing to sacrifice his potential paternity because of his overwhelming love for a woman is, we contend, entitled to consideration, especially in view of startling evidence we will introduce relative to what took place before Wright started shooting."

Geisler said Wright would not testify at the inquest.

Commenting on Wright's asserted statement that he fired "blindly," County Autopsy Surgeon A. P. Wagner said of the nine bullets fired from the pistol, five struck Mrs. Wright and three entered Kimmel's body.

"It seems to me it would have been impossible for a person firing blindly to place eight out of nine bullets with such deadly accuracy," said Dr. Wagner.

Police Capt. Charles Blake said evidence indicated Wright had stood directly over his wife and Kimmel as he fired, and not 20 feet away, as he claimed.

Police Capt. W. E. Hegel said authorities will seek to prove the murders were premeditated and that Wright stood directly above the two victims and pumped bullets into their bodies.

Reports that the bed upon which Wright claimed he took a nap was unrumpled, and a mirror placed so the couple could be seen from the bedroom probably will play a large part in the premeditated angle, Hegel added.

WRESTLER IS SUED BY SPECTATOR

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—In the mad sport of wrestling anything can and usually does happen, so the charge against Sandor Szabo was not very surprising.

Dale J. Greif sued the grappler for $24,000 alleging that while he was watching Szabo in a wrestling match here last Oct. 8 Szabo leaped out of the ring and mauled him.

He sustained a broken neck, a dislocated shoulder bone and displacement of several vertebrae, Greif complained.

The suit was disclosed today with filing of an answer in superior court by Szabo, who said that he tried, as gently as possible, to eject Greif from the auditorium because he was heckling him with such remarks:

"You big bum! You are the type that beats up his wife!"

Greif, in his complaint, admitted that in present-day wrestling matches it is often part of the game for one of the contestants to engage in a mock fight with a spectator.

Szabo, however, said Greif, exhibited a "vicious, vengeful and malicious nature" which took all of the fun out of the exhibition.

Ice Age Relics Found By Children At Play

HALLE, Germany. (AP)—Playing children are getting credit for the discovery of valuable relics of the ice age, including a tusk of a prehistoric rhinoceros, found in the municipal rubbish heap at Camburg, near here.

Two years ago the skull of a prehistoric ibex was found in a near-by gravel pit. It proved to be an important discovery as it was regarded as the only existing trace of this animal.

It is believed that children playing around the gravel pit before the discovery was made may have unearthed these latest relics and thrown them on the rubbish heap.

'Broke'—Cannery Leads to Prosperity

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—When the winds of depression began to eddy across the land, Shelby Priddy was virtually broke, and out of a job.

He hit upon the idea of putting up a small cannery near his home, offered to can his neighbor's vegetables, claiming a small percentage of the vegetables canned as his toll. Shortly he found a market for his products, and today he supplies canned goods for several grocers here and at near-by Hilderton, and does right well. He said he sold 5000 cans last year, and production and sales this year were even better.

WPA Gives Santa A Big Headstart

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Santa Claus is off to any early start here in filling one of his biggest toy orders. His helpers are 60 WPA workers.

Santa's order list contains the names of 12,000 boys and girls under 12 whose families are on relief. The names were assembled by William L. Coffey, manager of county institutions, and Benjamin Glassberg, county relief superintendent.

The goal is at least one toy on Christmas eve for each underprivileged child.

Texas Juries Easy On Liquor Violators

AUSTIN, Texas. (AP)—Bert Ford, state liquor control administrator, says he is convinced there is small possibility of obtaining a liquor law conviction anywhere in Texas.

He was advised recently that a Galveston jury had found a person guilty on an "open saloon" charge and fined him $100.

"So far as we know," the official said, "no other jury in Galveston had convicted a liquor law violator in state court before, during, or since prohibition."

Oscar Wilde wrote one of his famous works, "Salome," in French.

Windsor Kin

Taking American society by storm is the attractive Duchess of Westminster, shown above as she arrived in New York, recently, from England. The former Honorable Loella Ponsonby, third wife of the Duke of Westminster, she is distantly related to the Duke of Windsor. Her husband, 60 and fabulously wealthy, plays bridge for fantastic stakes.

FUTURE MOTOR MAY USE DUST

ELBING, Germany. (AP)—Dust and powdered grasshoppers soon may serve the Fatherland as motor fuel.

German scientists and engineers wrestling with the problem of using dust, waste, residues and even ground insects in motors have just received word that experiments of Dr. H. Wahl, of the Schichau shipyards, with dust combustion engines are nearing success.

One of the main obstacles of dust as fuel—the heavy wear and tear on the motor by grinding ashes—has been successfully overcome, declares Dr. Wahl. He says the Schichau company has developed a metal alloy which is harder than any known steel and therefore suitable for a motor designed to run on dust.

NEW METAL EFFECTIVE
Previous attempts with dust combustion motors failed, explains Dr. Wahl, because usually after 150 hours trial run the cylinders and pistons were worn to pieces by the grinding effects of the extremely hard residue of burnt dust.

The new metal alloy, however, withstands the hardest grinding, he says, citing that only 1-700 of a millimeter was ground off the cylinder walls of a motor made of the new metal during a test run of 150 hours.

MOTOR SMALL
The experiments are part of the nation's four-year plan to achieve economic self-sufficiency.

Dr. Wahl says his "dust eater" is not much bigger than an ordinary motorcycle engine, but declines to divulge further details, except to say that it runs on almost every kind of properly powdered dust, such as that of brown coal, hard coal, saw dust, remnants of grain, beech nuts, copra, cocoa powder, rice, hay, and even ground grasshoppers.

A New Industry; Airplane Salvage

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Wrecked airplanes are bread and butter for Don Coe.

Coe, a former flyer, now heads a company whose business is salvage of airplanes which have cracked up.

"In two years we have moved 18 cracked-up planes," he says. "A crack-up is worth from $50 to $350, depending on size and condition of the plane."

Coe thinks his company started the airplane salvage business. In 18 months it has bought $12,000 worth of damaged planes and parts.

Grandpa Stepfather Of Own Grandchild

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—When Mrs. Rosie May Billings Orsborn, 34, married Oscar H. Orsborn, 77, the second husband of her mother, who died last year, she married not only her stepfather, but her father-in-law as well because she previously had married Orsborn's son, who died this spring. She was the mother of a child by the son, thus making her present husband the stepfather of his own grandchild.

ENDS

PAUL
WRIGHT

Our Dons went touchdown-clear against Citrus Owls, but Coach Bill Cook and Blanche Beatty cannot be accused of deliberately "pouring it on" in that dazzling 44-6 victory here last night. They ran in everyone except the midget water-boy, Danny Frias, and he wasn't eligible. It was simply a case of too much man-power against a good little team which had only 25 men on its roster. Al Claves' tricky formations had the Santa Anas on their toes until Citrus began gambling in its own territory. That pass interception and 32-yard run to a touchdown by Les McLennan started the dizzy riot.

Salinas Jaycee is the next rival for your Dons' fast football express. The northern team is coached by Ed Adams, Oregon State graduate who gained all-conference recognition at end on the first Southern California championship eleven developed by Bill Cook here in 1929. Salinas plays Santa Ana in a non-conference game here next Friday night.

That Municipal bowl announcer with the pleasant voice and clear-cut descriptions is Bob Bradley, who has been doing an exceptionally neat job with the loud-speaker. The Dons' rosters, using flashlights and cellophane squares, spelled out the letters "C. J. C." and "Bill" with the lights off during the intermission.

Ambrose Schindler, the San Diego sparkplug who will lead the Trojans against Oregon State in the Coliseum tomorrow afternoon, has carried the ball 124 times for a total gain of 539 yards this season—an average of 4.3 yards per try. He is second in Pacific Coast conference scoring, with eight touchdowns, with California's Vic Bottari leading the pack.

While Santa Ana's Saints were shading Fullerton 7-6 in their traditional game at Fullerton yesterday, Coach Bill Foote's assistant, Joe Koegler from Washington State, was scouting San Bernardino's 20-12 defeat in a Citrus Belt league game at Riverside. The Saints need a victory at San Bernardino next Friday afternoon to clinch the title and the right to enter the annual C. I. F. playoffs. "San Bernardino has a heavy line and a left-handed passer who will cause us lots of trouble," Koegler said. "Riverside at present is more powerful than when the Bears beat us at Poly Field, 9 to 6."

Loyola's backfield might well be dubbed "Little Italy," what with the first-string quartet comprised of four Italians: Jim Rinaldi, quarterback; Harry Acquarrelli, left half; Max La Martina, right half; and Henry Sartoris, fullback. Jack Lyons, Loyola's ace passer, once threw a football 83 yards while in high school. It still stands as the Los Angeles city playground record.

Saints Win on 61-Yard Aerial Play, 7-6

MUSICK KICKS EXTRA POINT AT FULLERTON

Hamaker Fires Long Pass to Smith in Armistice Feature

CITRUS BELT LEAGUE
Santa Ana, 7; Fullerton, 6 (non-league).
Riverside, 20; San Bernardino, 12.
Chaffey, 21; Redlands, 6.

Two sensational aerial plays were written into another chapter of Orange county's oldest football rivalry today, as Santa Ana's Saints celebrated a 7-6 football victory scored over Fullerton's Indians before an Armistice day crowd of 6000 at Fullerton yesterday.

Fullback Bill Musick's trusty right toe furnished the precious "extra point" on the conversion that meant the difference between victory and a tie against Donald Goodchild's inspired Indians, who fought the Saints to a standstill.

HAMAKER TO SMITH
Fading back from his own 39-yard line near the end of the first half, Eugene Hamaker uncorked a beautiful pass that sailed high over the Fullerton secondary and into the arms of Milton Smith, Santa Ana's lanky right end who tucked the ball under his arm on the 20 and outdistanced two rivals to the goal. The 61-yard touchdown pass electrified the holiday crowd, and showed the Saints into a 7-0 lead at the intermission.

The thrilling play was a fitting reward for the Saints, who took the opening kick-off and punched over three first downs before their attack bogged down on Fullerton's 25-yard line.

Acting Capt. Don Warhurst, dividing time between left end and center, set the stage for the Hamaker-Smith touchdown by intercepting a Fullerton pass fired by Pryor to Santa Ana's 39. Fullerton's touchdown came shortly at the start of the second period, after Bill Collins of the Saints had punted out of bounds on Fullerton's 33. Pearson gained 12 yards on a swing around right end, and Goodchild brought the ball up to Santa Ana's 36. Lorerin, who quartered back and passed over the left side of the Saint line to Halfback Earl, who caught the ball on the 28 and cut down the left sidelines to the goal. Fullerton faked a drop-kick conversion, and Fullback Ray Stone's plunge over right guard fell short by a yard.

The touchdown inspired Fullerton's fighting eleven, which soon gained possession at mid-field and drove to Santa Ana's 27 on four plays, featuring a 9-yard gain on a pass from Lorerin to Barton. Smith, on the receiving end of Santa Ana's touchdown, broke up Fullerton's second rally by intercepting a pass on the Saints' 24.

Unable to make downs, the Saints called upon Hamaker, who punted out on their own 40. Lorerin passed to Pearson, who lateraled to Fullback Stone for a 17-yard gain to Santa Ana's 23. A long pass fell incomplete, and Fullerton completed another short one to the 20-yard line as the gun ended the game.

The Saints completely dominated the first quarter. Wayne Piper returned the kick-off to his own 35, and Bill Foote's preps made three consecutive first downs with Piper and Musick lugging the ball and Fullerton completed another short one to the 20-yard line as the gun ended the game.

BRUINS FACE HUSKIES ON WET FIELD

SEATTLE, (AP)—The two Washington, university and high school, will probably encounter sloppy going tomorrow.

The stadium field on which the University of Washington Huskies will try to stop U. C. L. A.'s backfield threat, Kenny Washington, was soft and slippery today after a week of intermittent rains.

Observers felt that a soggy field would slow up the lightning-fast attacks of the opposing schools.

The Bruins were to arrive this afternoon and take a brief workout on the stadium turf. Only setting-up exercises were scheduled for the Huskies, who concluded their heavy training with a fierce scrimmage yesterday.

Ray Eckmann, U. W. athletic director, disclosed late yesterday George M. Varnell, sports editor of the Seattle Times and veteran Pacific coast football official, would not referee tomorrow's game.

L. G. Conlon, San Francisco, was appointed by Commissioner Herb Dana to replace Varnell. Varnell said he requested his name be withdrawn because "I thought it would be better for all concerned."

Seattle has been engaged in an editorial attack on Coach Jimmy Phelan and his "system."

Barker Favors Pitt, Notre Dame, Minnesota Tomorrow

NEW YORK, (AP)—Newly equipped with the latest type of shock absorbers, this corner bends a wary eye on the national football program and timidly ventures the following guesses for what they may be worth.

Pitt-Nebraska.—The Panthers won the game they wanted when they trounced Notre Dame last week, but there still is a little matter of a possible re-bid to Pasadena. That ought to be motive to carry Dr. John Bain Sutherland's pupils past this dangerous hurdle.

Army-Notre Dame.—Notre Dame has come through a grueling schedule with high honors—a couple of defeats and a tie. Army is on the rise, but needed a horseshoe or two to get past Harvard. The nod, faint though it may be, goes to Notre Dame.

Minnesota-Northwestern.—The Gophers can forget about the national championship this year, but they still can snare an undisputed Big Ten crown out of the wreckage. This won't be easy, but we like Minnesota.

Oregon-California.—The scoreless draw with Washington indicated there was a touch of gilt about the Golden Bears. This trip into the far north may spell more trouble, but the ballot goes to California.

Rice-Texas A. & M.—Rice is the perfect illustration of the futility of figures. The Owls couldn't score a point in their first three games, and now have pushed over Texas, Auburn and Arkansas in succession. Maybe this is where the Owls get off, but they get the ballot just the same.

Alabama-Georgia Tech.—On its good days, Tech is liable to smear anyone (ask Vanderbilt), but this corner strings along with Alabama.

Duke-North Carolina.—This virtually decided the Southern Conference, and the vote goes to Duke.

BEAVERS RELY ON GRAY IN TROJAN TILT

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Pacific Coast conference football goes into its closing stages tomorrow with Stanford the only serious threat to California's championship hopes.

Stanford, which settled in second place in conference standings by dumping Southern California last Saturday, will entertain Washington State's Cougars at Palo Alto, while unbeaten California meets University of Oregon in a tough one at Portland.

The Indians were given a slight edge over the Cougars, who have won only a single conference contest while tying two and losing a pair. Stanford has won three, tied one and lost one.

That one loss was to Oregon, the team which might upset California. The Bears are considered "wonder team" since being held to a scoreless tie by an inspired Washington eleven last Saturday, but were strong favorites.

At Los Angeles, Oregon State college, in third place in conference standings though defeated twice, will take on Southern California's badly-battered Trojans, and for the first time in years the Beavers will be favored. U. S. C. has lost three games.

University of Idaho's strong vandals were given the edge over Gonzaga at Spokane in a non-conference game.

The Santa Clara Broncos will risk their unbeaten and untied record against the mediocre St. Mary's Gaels here Sunday.

SEABISCUIT IS UPSET

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Humbled by a mare in his last 1937 appearance, C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit, money-winning king of the turf this year, turns westward tomorrow to train for the rich Santa Anita handicap.

The handicap champion all but had the $10,000 added Bowie handicap won yesterday when William Ziegler, Jr.'s fleet, fighting mare, Esposa, closed with a rush to nip him by a nose. Burning Star was third.

Esposha had to set a new track record for the mile and five eighths to beat Seabiscuit in a thrilling photo-finish before 20,000 closing day fans at Pimlico. 2:45.1-5-12.5 seconds under the old mark.

Trainer Tom Smith announced he would ship the entire Howard string to California tomorrow. Seabiscuit will be pointed for the $100,000 Santa Anita on March 5, but may make several conditioning starts before then.

Seabiscuit ended his 1937 season with 11 wins in 15 starts and total earnings of $168,642. His nearest money-winning rival, War Admiral, the 3-year-old champion, retired for the season with eight straight victories and $166,500 earned.

Nagurski Through Mixing Wrestling With Grid Game
CHICAGO, (AP)—Bronko Nagurski says he's virtually through mixing wrestling with football during the rest of the current professional grid season.

The big Chicago Bear fullback announced he will wrestle only once more from now to the end of the grid season. Next week Nagurski will wrestle in a charity show in Los Angeles, opposing Dean Detton.

Jess Willard, Jr. In Fistic Debut

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Young Jess Willard, son of the former heavyweight champion, will make his fistic debut tonight.

Willard, fighting at 179 pounds, will represent Washington State college when the collegians meet the amateur boxers of Potlatch, Idaho.

Cookmen Break Record of '36

Santa Ana's 1936 Southland champion Dons' high offensive mark of 184 points in 11 football games last season fell by the boards today, as the present two-team varsity surpassed by 16 points that total after their reserve strength crushed the plucky Citrus Owls under a 44 to 6 touchdown avalanche last night in the Municipal bowl. An Armistice day crowd of nearly 5000 fans witnessed the greatest slaughter of an A. Claves-coached team, with Coach Bill Cook's murderous henchmen never letting up from the opening gun, although the entire Don roster saw action at some time during the tilt. Citrus' 25-man roster simply did not have the reserve strength.

For today at least the Red and Black held down the undisputed lead of the Eastern J. C. conference football race with 250 percentage points over San Bernardino.

TWO GAMES TONIGHT
San Bernardino must win at Riverside tonight to retain its co-leadership with Santa Ana's Dons. Pomona goes to Fullerton in the other conference feature.

End John Joseph from the 15-yard line deep in the end-zone, Joseph, who played a bang-up game at the wings, nailed the strike over his shoulder just before going out of the playing field. A pass to Joseph two plays previous, which was good for 18 yards, set the stage for the touchdown.

(4) Taking advantage of Poore's fumble of a bad center pass in kick formation, the Dons drove 31 yards, with McLennan piling through from the 1-yard mark after a sizzling right end run by Mercurio had placed the pigskin on the 6-yard line. McLennan kicked the conversion.

(5) With his interference forming as he ran, Mercurio picked his holes and then overran his blockers in scoring on a beautiful 78-yard touchdown dash. Citrus man touched the fleet quarterback, who ran up the left side of the field and then reversed to the right.

(6) Cashing in on three first downs from their own 40, the Dons rolled down the field with Larry Timken and Dick Saunders in the driver's seat reeling off chunks of yardage before Timken banged over his right end for 21 yards and a touchdown. He was checked by a tackler on the 10, slipped out to run unmoored to the goal.

(7) Roquet, who performed half the game at right tackle, went in at quarterback with Lynn Arnett at fullback, piloted the Dons 60 more yards for their final score. The 210-pound lineman crashed his way over left tackle and end from the 12-yard line, knocking over one would-be tackler en route.

Citrus scored when the Owls' dynamic captain, Ernie Poore, ran wide over left end as the fourth quarter began. Santa Ana's third team line and backfield were pushed back 54 yards before the second stringer came to the rescue, but on fourth down Poore faked a pass and skirted left end for seven yards.

WHITTIER TOPS OXY, 23 TO 7

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Occidental college's football record was marred today by another defeat but the Tigers were consoled by having made a touchdown.

With three scoreless ties and a 3-to-0 beating chalked up against them this season, the Tigers lost to Whittier, 23-7, in an Armistice Day game.

It was Whittier's first Southern California conference win. San Diego State went outside the conference to play the marine corps and won, 6 to 0, for the first time since 1925.

Redlands, invading San Jose State, lost 12 to 0. At Flagstaff, La Verne college took a non-conference shelling from Arizona State Teachers, 20 to 7.

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, (AP)—Broadway lullaby: Max Schmeling, just off the boat hurrying to the nearest movie... "I hear 'Perfect Specimen' is pretty good," says Max... "Did you saw it?"... Trainer Max Nathan says: "That feller is nuts about the movies, ain't it?"... Frankie Frisch, in a brand new overcoat, puffing a big cigar in front of Dempsey's and wishing he had a pair for Army-Notre Dame... Up comes a reporter and hands Frank a pair on the 50-yard line... "Listen," said the old Fordham flash... "The Cards will win the National League pennant and you'll have a whole box to all seven games."

Mike Jacobs limping out of the Algonquin restaurant on a cane... A gambler in front of Dave's blue room calling Washington and Lee... "Washington and Looney"... Joe Jacobs, the fight manager and Damon Runyon, the author, make a night of it in a Greenwich Village spot... And Jimmy Kelly, owner of same, lamenting: "Things are lousy with me... Business is off $500 per night... I haven't won a bet in 30 days... And when I bid $10,000 for The Chief, a rich guy comes along and he goes me four grand better... Jack Dempsey busy applying the old hot foot at a luncheon for boxing writers in his joint... Lou Gehrig and the Mrs. emerging from a swanky restaurant."

The boys around town are having a good laugh on Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman who (may the Saints forgive him) was responsible for Jack Doyle and other non-click fistic importations... Somehow the word got around old "Good Time" was being featured in a Hollywood picture... When the cinema hit the stem, the gang all flocked down to see it... One reel, two reels, three reels passed and no sign of Walter... Finally they flashed on a scene showing a fighter entering the ring... Behind him, carrying a pail of water, was Walter (Good Time Charlie) Friedman... He was in and out, just like that... But he was swell while he lasted.

Alberto Lovell, Argentine heavyweight, who debuts here tonight, is deeply religious... The two rich guys backing him prefer to be known as "sponsors" rather than managers... Harry Thomas who fights Schmeling next month, was born Henry Pontius and once caught for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast league... Guess you all noticed Mr. Dizzy Dean didn't rate even honorable mention in the poll for the National league's most valuable player... Charlie Woods, Clemson's classy center, has played 337 of a possible 420 minutes this year and snapped the ball 374 times without a miscue... Nice going, Butch.

LAGUNA NIPS GROVE, 6-0

With both teams playing a hard-fought game, Laguna's Artists defeated Garden Grove's luckless Argonauts, 6 to 0, in an Orange Prep league game at Laguna Beach yesterday.

The fireworks began in the second quarter when LeRoy Blacketer tossed a 20-yard pass that was intercepted by Art Berry, who fumbled on Garden Grove's 15. Laguna's Jim Walker recovered, but Garden Grove immediately regained possession on a fumble. A bad pass from center gave Laguna the ball on Garden Grove's 2-yard mark. Blacketer crashed over center for the touchdown. Bob Ward blocked Blacketer's conversion kick to hold Laguna to a 6-0 score.

Queball Henry of Laguna intercepted Ward's pass on Garden Grove's 20, and a penalty for roughness put the ball on Garden Grove's 5, but the Artists could not score, later in the game.

LOYOLA UPSETS GENTS, 14-7

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Loyola university's football squad, surprise victors over the strong Centenary college Gentlemen, rested up today before heading into hard work for the next skirmish with a major team in the southwest—the Baylor Bears.

The Lions, who play Baylor at Beaumont, Tex., Nov. 20, upset Centenary before an Armistice day crowd of 25,000 by a 14 to 7 count here.

Centenary scored first on a 48-yard dash by Al Beasley, but backed against their 4-yard stripe, the Gents fumbled and Loyola recovered over the goal line for the tying tally. The winning Lion touchdown came in the last six minutes on a 57-yard drive topped by a 26-yard pass from Fullback Jack Lyons to End Tom Wilson.

L. A. SHERIFF PRAISES MERIT PLAN

Civil service in the Los Angeles county sheriff's office "has resulted in a constantly rising level of quality" in the service, and is attracting the college-trained criminologist to the department for a life career in law enforcement, which has become today a highly specialized profession rather than just a job, said Dr. F. W. Emmerson, personal representative of Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, in a radio address on KVOE here Wednesday night.

Dr. Emmerson, who has been public relations counsel for the Los Angeles sheriff's office for seven years, recited the history of civil service, not only nationally and internationally, but in Los Angeles county, where it installed the merit system in 1913.

"Employees of the county at that time," he said, "were blanketed into the personnel and continued to serve until their efficiency ratings proved them unequal for the positions they held."

"The increasing efficiency of our county government is the evidence that the merit plan is practicable. The sheriff's department is rapidly becoming a field of opportunity for young men and women as a career. The personnel of our women deputies, for instance, has recently been increased by three, every one of whom was a graduate of a university, specializing in preparation for social and criminological work. The same thing is true of the male deputies entering the service."

DEVELOP RAPIDLY

"It is perfectly true that they lacked that most valuable asset of all, experience, but with the initial fundamentals already acquired, the experience they gain under those already possessed of it, will develop them much more rapidly than if they lacked the special preparation."

"The merit system in police work has proved a definite benefit, reaching beyond the present and providing a program of definite objectives. Police work at the present day is a highly specialized job. No man has any business going into it unless with the intention of making it a life work. It takes several years of practical experience to turn out an efficient police officer. A change through election or otherwise after only a few years service is that much loss to the community, which has wasted the cost of educating that officer."

FREQUENT TURNOVER
"Suppose that after every quadrennial election, the whole army and navy were changed. The result certainly would be most supremely disastrous. The local police department of any community is comparable to this situation."

Dr. Emmerson declared that the methods of selecting personnel, the conditions under which they work, their remuneration, and future opportunities, help determine the quality of service government can render its citizens.

"Whether the partisan or non-partisan type of local government prevails, the patronage or political spoils system has never militated toward impartial, efficient governmental administration," he said. "As long as this system prevails, giving its special favors and protection in exchange for political support, just so long will corrupt politics survive."

"The aggravating problem of appointments after elections has been a disgrace to the democratic system, as well as wasteful, extravagant and inefficient," said Dr. Emmerson. "Under such conditions the moral standards cannot reach high, and only those willing to exchange political independence for a job could seek the service."

The citizen and taxpayer is the greatest winner or loser in the situation, he declared.

Carving Claimed Weeping; Brings Many Afflicted

MONTREAL (American Wire)—Claims that a small religious statuette in her room has started to weep for her recovery is bringing a steady stream of strangers to the home of Leona Velleneuve, in Cornwall, a nearby village.

A paralytic, and in ill health ever since she had an appendicitis operation about 15 years ago, the French-Canadian woman began a long series of daily prayers for her recovery. Shortly afterward the statuette commenced to weep so profusely "that we had to place absorbent cotton over it to absorb the moisture," according to her parents.

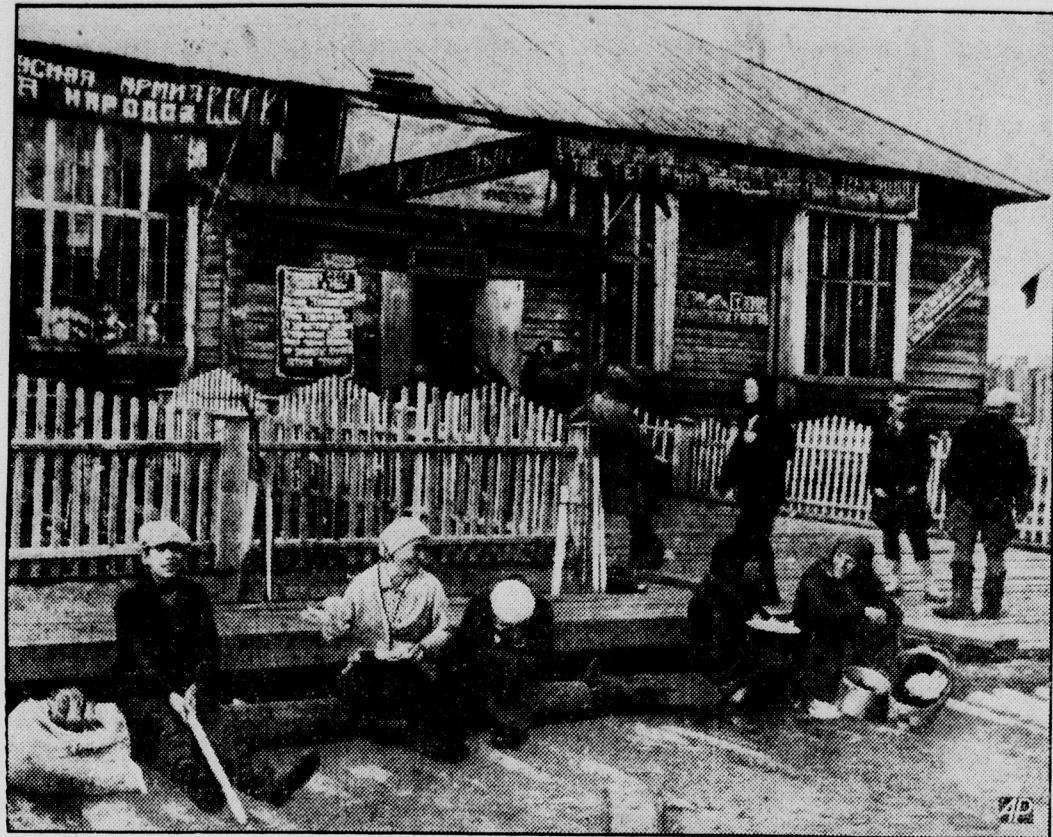

Many of the callers are ill or deformed, while others are merely curious. Some carry away pieces of the cotton, hoping it will give them relief.

Night Settles Upon Siberians

There's darkness on the delta 150 miles north of the Arctic circle in Siberia where four sunless months are setting in upon Port Igarka, a town built upon a frozen swampland. Even in August when this picture was taken outside a department store, inhabitants wore heavy clothing. Banners of the establishment read, "Comrades, help us increase the efficiency of our retail trade."

FDR TO SEND MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Speaker Bankhead said today President Roosevelt had decided to send rather than deliver in person his message to the special session of congress starting Monday.

Talking to reporters at the White House, Bankhead said the President felt that, inasmuch as the extraordinary session was a continuation of the present congress and most of the legislation to be considered was already pending, there was no necessity for delivering the message personally.

The Alabama, who said he had a very "democratic" luncheon conference on the general legislative program, asserted the special session would consider surplus control, wages and hours, government reorganization and regional planning proposals.

He added that stronger anti-trust legislation, which the President has indicated might be pressed at the special session, was not mentioned in his talk with Mr. Roosevelt.

Reorganization of Huge Citrus Group Is Planned

NEW YORK, (AP)—John Ringling North, nephew of the late John T. Ringling, said today he would confer with bankers tomorrow on plans for a projected reorganization meeting of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus directors.

OCEAN WRECKS NOME COAST

NOME, Alaska, (AP)—The entire eastern end of the Nome waterfront, extending over a mile, was wrecked yesterday by pounding seas. Hardly a waterfront building in that district remained intact after the terrific storm.

Businessmen estimated the city's loss at more than $125,000.

The Lincoln hotel, one of the city's largest hostels, was vacated on order of authorities who feared it would collapse because of water undermining the foundations.

Several buildings along the waterfront, smashed by the crashing waves, had disappeared almost completely. Others, their foundations washed away, were tipped over.

The main business section street was piled with driftwood and the splintered remains of buildings and bulkheads.

Faces Death To Save Daughter

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Murphy, 71, who saved her daughter from an irate landlord's gunfire by stepping into the path of the bullets, was near death today in Somerville hospital.

Mrs. Murphy was wounded in the stomach and right leg during an argument over the use of a basement storeroom.

Police Lieut. John Killourhy said she was shot as she stepped between her daughter, Mrs. Helen Sloan, 34, and the landlord, Nathan Santourigan, 66. Cornered by police in an attic, Santourigan killed himself, the lieutenant said.

Sea Birds Fly Across Atlantic

LONDON, (American Wire)—Seabirds are far superior to pigeons as homers, it has just been proven by the Skokholm Bird observatory, off Frobisher, Shetland. Birds tagged and released from as far away as Boston, Mass., and Venice, made record flights back to the British islands during the experiments.

Duelling Becomes Popular With Youths in Germany

BERLIN, (AP)—Duelling is regaining popularity in Nazi Germany, with rapiers and pistols for the men and boxing gloves for youth who would settle affairs of honor.

Oldest tradition of German universities, the duelling of today has been given some modern touches—a lighter rapier usually replaces the once customary heavy saber; an apology clause under a revised student honor code makes mediation possible; and an honor court replaces the older duel committee, comprised of the four deputies of the combatants.

"Sanctity of man's honor" has become a Nazi battle cry, and a Nazi student or party member from the youngest Hitler youth up may use the duel to maintain it.

The Nazi party itself operates honor courts, then there are students' honor courts, and similar institutions are operated by branches of the industries, craftsmen's guilds, and Nazi journalists.

Duels with pistols are the exception—the recent fatal wounding of Roland E. Strunk in contest with Horst Krutschinna, Hitler youth worker, is the only one known to have occurred in Germany since the ban on duelling was lifted in 1933. Krutschinna, party sources said, committed suicide.

The commonly used light saber weighs 28.2 ounces, and has a blade length of 35 inches. Fifteen inches of the edge and six inches of the back of the blade are ground sharp. The point is filed off.

In serious cases, the opponents face each other with exposed chests, only the main arteries and the abdomen being protected by leather bandages. Duels of a lighter character call for bandages to protect head, eyes, neck, arms, heart and abdomen, and for gloves of mail.

The "simple" saber duel is fixed at 30 minutes, with two-minute intermissions every 10 minutes. The "heavy" duel ends when one of the combatants is disabled.

It still is unwritten law among the students that wincing is "dishonoring conduct." Seconds and witnesses of either party are on the constant lookout to detect the slightest flicker in the eyes of the opponent, or an expression of pain after a cut. In such case, the duel would be stopped immediately and the "weakling" be dismissed from the fraternity.

In case of the death of one opponent, the old imperial army corps tradition of six months to one year's confinement for the other in a fortress is said still to be in force.

Educators Of State in Session

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—California educators will address the Pacific Southwest Conference on Adult Education today and tomorrow at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Speakers will include President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California; Morse A. Cartwright, director of the American Association for Adult Education; Dr. Everett Dean Martin, professor of social philosophy at Claremont college; Dr. John A. Sexton, president of the California Teachers' association; and Leon J. Richardson, director of the extension division of the University of California.

BEAN MEN OF STATE MAY BE AIDED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Wallace said today the agriculture department would like to formulate a program for the surplus-troubled California bean industry "that might not contribute to further plantings in excess of market requirements."

In a letter to Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Wallace said reports from California indicated a "surplus in that state alone of approximately 1,000,000 bags" and noted acreage planted to dry-edible beans had shown a "steady increase" since 1932.

"Consequently," he said, "we would prefer to formulate some sort of program with the industry that might not contribute to further plantings in excess of market requirements."

Johnson had written Wallace that bean growers in the Salinas valley wanted a loan of three cents a pound. The secretary replied he understood the commodity credit corporation was no longer accepting applications for loans.

"We have been advised, however," he said, "that there have apparently been no lack of local credit thus far."

The secretary said the department recently prepared a surplus purchasing program for the California industry but "there have been no requests as yet that purchases be made."

"It is recognized," he added, "that moderate purchases for relief distribution will not likely lift the market to the extent desired."

Lupe Gets Bop On Head and Wild Motorcycle Ride

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Hollywood's Lupe Velez came home yesterday and got a bop on the head and a motorcycle ride.

A crowd of 10,000 turned out to welcome the actress on her first visit in 11 years. In the crush Lupe got scratches on her hands, blows on the head and cheeks, torn clothing—and the motorcycle ride from station to hotel to escape the admirers.

She is to make a picture here.

Garner Meets Old Friend, Talks of Fishing, Hunting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP)—Two boyhood friends, one the vice president of the United States and the other a Paraguayan rancher visiting here after a quarter century absence, met again today in touching reunion.

Vice President Garner, en route to Washington, stood on the steps of his private car and saw the slight figure of William X. Lewis approaching. He stepped down with an extended arm and chokingly said, "Bill, you old son-of-a-gun! How are you?"

Arms were thrown about each other and for a moment the two were speechless. They went inside, or, When Women Go to Law, the Devil Is Full of Business."

For a full 15 minutes they chatted. "Let us alone," said Garner, "we have things to talk about."

Finally announcement of the train's imminent departure separated them.

John Webster, 17th century playwright, wrote a tragedy-comedy entitled "The Devil's Law-Case, or, When Women Go to Law, the Devil Is Full of Business."

GOVERNOR SAVES 2 MEN FROM DEATH

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The gallows at San Quentin prison did not claim the lives of Alfred Paine and Hugh C. Smith today. The death sentences given the men after their conviction for the death of Police Chief E. G. Fish of North Sacramento were commuted to life by Governor Frank Merriam.

On five previous occasions the governor had reprieved the men as the date for their hangings neared. Yesterday the governor commuted the sentences, an act which brought a protest from District Attorney Otis D. Babcock, who prosecuted Paine and Smith.

The state pardon advisory board had recommended clemency for Smith, but none for Paine. The governor said he based his action on belief there had been a trial error through the court's failure properly to instruct the jury.

Posse Shoots Escaped Negro

COAHOMA, Miss. (AP)—Sheriff Lee Matthews announced last night that a young negro who had attacked him and escaped had been shot and killed by an armed posse of deputy sheriffs, police officers and citizens.

The sheriff said the negro, Jesse Turner, was arraigned on a robbery charge and attacked him while en route to a Clarksdale jail, escaping into a cypress break. A member of the posse, estimated at 300 men, said the negro was trailed to a house here and shot when he refused to surrender.

The sheriff was not seriously hurt.

300,000 CCC Men Replaced in U. S.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Director Robert Fechner announced today the Civilian Conservation Corps' statutory quota of 300,000 young men and war veterans was filled during October with the enrollment of 133,243 replacements.

The replacements take the places of enrollees who have left the CCC camps in recent months.

how to make a politician mad!

There's a sure way. Vote for civil service for the Santa Ana police and fire departments next Tuesday.

The politicians don't like civil service.

They don't like efficiency

The merit system makes them sick.

Your vote for civil service is guaranteed to bring acute pain in some politician's neck.

Civil service spoils his game.

Civil service in the police and fire departments means that the politicians can't control them.

Such a situation makes the politicians frantic.

Any politician will tell you civil service "ain't right."

Which proves it is right.

So you'll make the politicians mad if you vote for it.

But who cares?

Vote or it anyway.

Give the politicians a dose of efficiency.

It does not increase taxes one cent. It's not a pension plan.

It's merely a merit plan.

CLAM ACID FROM PLANES RUINED CARS

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Irate Los Angeles residents who want to fight it out with United States army aviators will have to make their complaints in writing, United States Attorney Benjamin Harrison said today.

A number of verbal protests have already been made against the fliers. Residents of the Echo Park district claim an acid shower accompanied smoke screens the fliers threw out in recent maneuvers over the city. The acid was alleged to have spoiled finish of automobiles, ruined women's silk toisery and stained clothing.

At March Field, Col. John E. Pirie, commandant, said the matter would be thoroughly investigated.

BLONDE KILLER FACES CHAIR

CINCINNATI, (AP) — Anna Marie Hahn, facing death in the electric chair as the poison slayer of an elderly gardener, protested in vain today her transfer to a Columbus jail to await execution.

The 31-year-old blonde said she would "grieve herself to death" if taken from her son, but Warden James C. Woodard of Ohio penitentiary announced she would be kept in Columbus city prison.

"If I am taken to Columbus they might as well get the chair ready," Mrs. Hahn commented in her cell at county courthouse, where she was convicted Saturday of administering a fatal dose of poison to Jacob Wagner, 78, after a month-long trial.

TOO MANY FIANCEES

Guy Garrison's millionaire Uncle Sherman, feeble invalid, is so insistent upon his getting married that Guy, while wintering in Miami, sends the old man a photo of Joan Wilton, nightclub singer, saying he is engaged to her. Then he actually becomes engaged to Mabel Lane but, when Uncle Sherman comes to Miami to take him and Joan on a yacht cruise, Guy is afraid to spring a new fiancée on him. He pays Joan to go on the cruise as his "fiancee." Ned Acton, who loves Joan and is opposed to the scheme, gets aboard the yacht as a member of the crew. Also aboard are Dick Young, private detective, and Laura, M. M. r. pretty trained nurse. At Havana, Ned mysteriously skips. That evening, while the yacht party is ashore, Laura receives a note and abruptly disappears. The others, returning to the yacht, find Uncle Sherman determined to sail at midnight — without Laura. Dick, infuriated, starts back to shore to look for her.

CHAPTER XXIII

THE note handed to Laura at the Casino had read: Please say nothing to the others and come at once to the foyer. Everything will be explained to you.

Without pausing to consider the consequences, she had hurried out to the foyer. There she had found a tall Cuban awaiting her.

His black eyes glittered and his waxed mustache lifted above even white teeth in a smile of greeting. "The Senorita is kind," he murmured. "She well pardon me for not coming to her, but set would have been indiscreet."

"Who a re you?" demanded Laura. "And what do you want?"

"I cannot tell you here, Senorita. I am Jose Mendoza de Carabones. Eef you weel go weeth me, I weel take you to ze one who sends ze message."

He took her hand and firmly tucked it under his arm.

"But this is preposterous!" protested Laura. She was beginning to be a little frightened.

"Eet es all right," the Cuban firmly guided her toward the door. Over his shoulder, he gave a staccato command in Cuban to the assistant manager, who, as he had seen, later sought out the group from the yacht and delivered the message purportedly from Laura.

"I don't want to go out with you!" Laura protested. "Let go of me! I demand."

Her demand was smothered by a strong hand cupped over her mouth. The Cuban rushed her through the door.

A BLACK sedan stood waiting at the curb, a driver at the wheel. Jose Mendoza de Carabones thrust the infuriated Laura into the tonneau, hastily climbed in beside her, and slammed the door. The car careened away from the curb.

Laura screamed shrilly, but the Cuban again clapped his hand over her mouth. She scratched him and bit savagely at the restraining hand. He jerked his hand away, pulled out a handkerchief, stuffed it into her mouth and tied it there with another handkerchief.

He said apologetically "Pardon Senorita. I am sorry you are making eef deefcult."

He held both her hands tightly as she writhed against his strength and mumbled behind the gag. Helpless, she finally relaxed in her corner.

Jose shrugged and said, "Eef you weel geeve your promise not to scream, I weel take the handkerchief away."

Weakly, Laura signified her acceptance of the truce by nodding her head.

Jose gingerly removed the gag. "You do not onderstand, I am not weesh for hurt you. Eef you weel come quietly there weel be no trouble."

"Where are you taking me?" Laura demanded. "I have to get back to the yacht!"

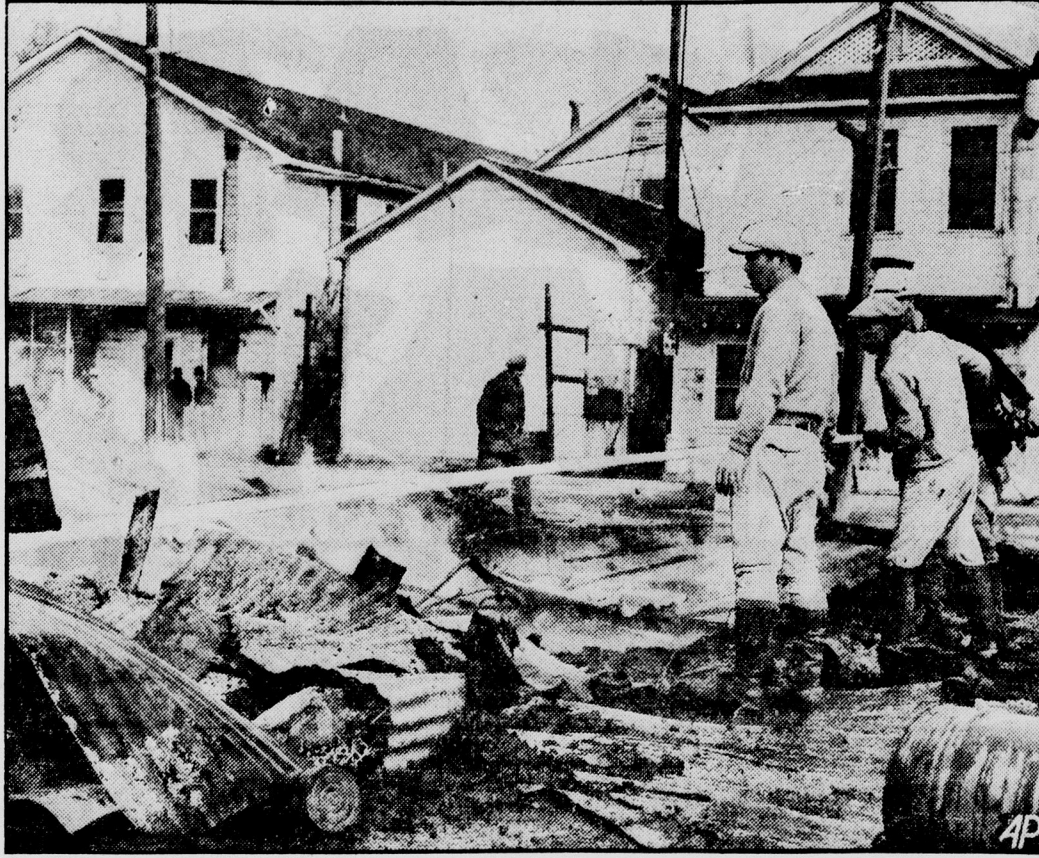

Jose shook his head with an amused smile.

"You do not onderstand," he repeated. "Eet es ze beeg joke."

"Ze beeg joke?" Laura echoed bitterly. "The Cuban sense of humor must be peculiar! They send men to the electric chair for being in the United States."

"But thees es not ze United States," he reminded her blandly. "I'm beginning to realize the difference!"

Four Die, 300 Homeless in Chinatown Fire

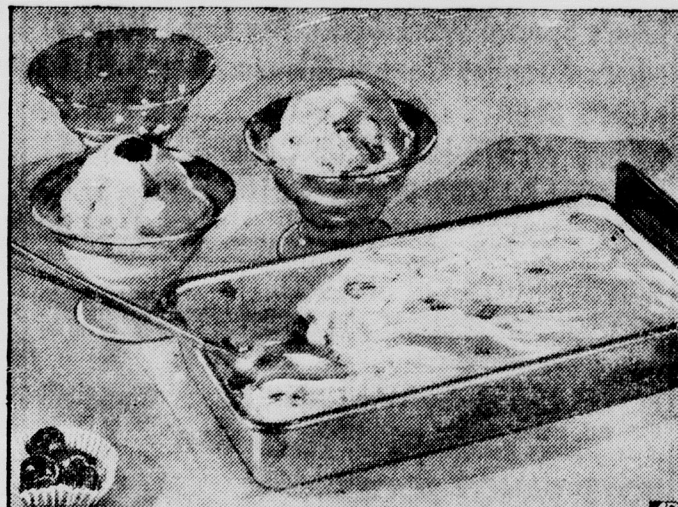

Four Chinese died and 300 were homeless as a result of a $200,000 fire which swept Chinatown in Walnut Grove, Calif., destroying approximately 100 homes. Firemen are shown pouring water on some of the burning debris.

Millions Visit National Parks

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The federal forest service reported today 30,801,938 persons visited the nation's 137 national forests during the 1937 fiscal year, an increase of 29 per cent over 1936.

The Angeles National forest in California led with 1,481,000 visitors.

STYLED FOR WINTER

Pecans, whipped cream and arrowroot pudding give this ice cream a rich flavor that makes it suitable for fall and winter serving. A candied cherry tops each portion.

Although apple pie has been called the all-American dessert, many menu planners are claiming that title for ice cream.

They say it is used the year 'round, plain flavors in spring and summer and ice creams filled with fruits and nuts and topped with thick sauces for fall and winter.

Butter Pecan Ice Cream
2 cups milk
1 package vanilla arrow-root
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup pecan nuts
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup cream, whipped

Mix arrowroot pudding with milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add sugar. Cool slightly and pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator to chill. Let freeze for about 1 hour, until mixture is thick but not hard.

Brown pecans in shallow pan in hot oven for 6 minutes. Add melted butter and salt and stir until nuts are well coated. Cool. Then chop. Remove pudding from freezing tray. Add nuts and whipped cream and mix all well. Replace in tray and freeze about 3 1/2 hours.

'Golden Parfait'

There's another frozen dessert, called "Golden Parfait," that is bound to be a family favorite if it's given half a try. Not only is it delicious—it's also a good way to make use of extra egg yolks.

Here's the way you mix it up: Beat eight egg yolks in a double boiler. Add a cup of sugar, two tablespoons of flour and half a cup of water. Cook slowly and stir frequently until a thin creamy sauce forms. Remove at once from the fire. Cool and add two teaspoons of vanilla, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and two cups of whipped cream. Allow to freeze for four hours in the mechanical refrigerator or in a tightly-covered mold buried in five parts of chopped ice and one part of coarse salt. (Add a cup of fresh berries or fruit for a novel taste.)

If cold desserts involving marshmallows and fruit go over with a bang in your menage, heat half a pound of marshmallows and a third of a cup of milk in the double boiler. When they are blended add a cup of crushed fruit. Freeze the combination for about half an hour in the mechanical refrigerator and then fold in a generous cup of whipped cream. Allow to freeze for four more hours.

Buffet supper note: Serve "Horns of Plenty" dessert sometime by adding fruits and nuts to almost any ice cream—and serve it in cones.

DOG IS BUDDY OF TIGER CUBS

By the AP Feature Service

DETROIT.—In competition with such jungle attractions as lions, giraffes and elephants, the most popular performer at the Detroit zoo this season has been a nondescript dog.

His name is Diamond and he spends his days palming around with a pair of tiger cubs in a dog and (jungle) cat act that came about rather by accident.

A tiger cub, presented to the zoo by Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Motor company, was pining away from loneliness last spring. As a temporary expedient, the dog was obtained from a pound to be a playmate. They became ush fast friends that they refused to be parted when two other tiger cubs arrived.

Diamond and Darling, the cub, were so inseparable when apart that Theodore Schroeder, head keeper, finally returned Diamond to the cage with the three tiger cubs. Schroeder had some misgivings, but they proved to be unfounded. Diamond soon was as friendly with the newcomers as he had been with Darling. The only member of the strange quartet to suffer was one of the tiger cubs, which fell dead of excitement during a particularly violent romp one day.

Just as a precaution, Diamond is removed from the cage at night. There is no mistaking his joy, and that of the tiger cubs, when they are reunited in the morning. All day long they romp and tussle, with an occasional time-out for napping, curled up against each other.

"There is nothing in the entire zoo that has come near this feat of interest and popularity," says Schroeder.

Pioneer Dies In Perris Home

PERRIS, (AP) — Maynard Lee Maper, pioneer who came to Perris in 1885 during the town's boom days, died here yesterday.

Maper established the first merchandise store and the first drug store here and was the first postmaster of Perris.

M'NUTT IN WARNING ON WORLD PEACE

MANILA, P. I., (AP) — High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, told Armistice Day banqueters tonight, "that to save themselves from the disorders of this age men do not have to surrender their birthright for a mess of fascist, communist or nazi potage."

Reviewing the turbulent world picture of war and strife, the high commissioner called upon Americans to re-dedicate themselves to preserve the democratic form of government, to the fundamental principles of justice and freedom and to the service of God and country.

Recalling the Armistice 19 years ago, the former national commander of the American Legion commented, "It is possible for armed forces to win a war and for politicians to lose a peace."

McNutt said world peace was hanging in the balance today.

"There are," he said "in the Far East and Europe, conflicts which, in the present state of mind of the people concerned, appear irreconcilable. In those regions there are ruling powers which avow their 'faith in the use of force. In each region there are nations where the primitive instincts of man, which it is the work of civilization to subdue and control, have been unleashed."

"It is not by diplomatic formulas, by conventions or by treaties that such a crisis can be overcome. It is only by the moral unity of all these nations which wish to keep peace and preserve for themselves and their children the standard of liberty and human decency."

2 LEAP FROM OCEAN LINER

VICTORIA, C. C. (AP) — An account of the disappearance of a man and a woman from the decks of the liner President McKinley in mid-Pacific was given here yesterday as the big ship arrived from the Orient.

Those missing were Edward Tenney of San Francisco, son of a former manager of the Matson Steamship line, and Mrs. A. K. Espenas, wife of a naval lieutenant stationed at Manila.

Two days after Tenney disappeared from the promenade deck of the McKinley, Mrs. Espenas fled from a card game Saturday night and dropped over the rail, ship officers said.

The 24-year-old Russian-born wife of Lieutenant Espenas, attached to the U. S. Gunboat Mindanao, had been in the ship's smoking room. A bridge game was in progress when she jumped up, exclaimed "I think I'll do as the other fellow did," and fled to the deck rail.

Tenney was on a world tour to recover his health when he was taken seriously ill at Bangkok, Siam.

HUGE CAVE DISCOVERED BY ENGINEER

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Existence of a crystal cave with rooms of vast extent in a mountain 60 miles west of Boulder Dam, near Mexican Wells, Calif., was disclosed here today by S. Maus Purpale, archaeologist and consulting engineer.

Purple said he was told by Indians of the cave in 1904, but it was not until last week that he entered it.

"There is a huge lime mountain 6000 feet high," Purple declared. "Entrance to the cave is through gaseous blowholes above the 5000-foot level. There are rooms of vast extent. I went down 500 feet on a rope, with no sign of bottom at one point. It could easily be opened up to tourists by means of a tunnel."

Purple declared the secret of the cave was told to him by a Piute Indian chieftain in 1904, when he was engaged in mining engineering at Moapa, Nev. Purple explored the region at that time, accompanied by Indians, but did not enter the cave.

The archaeologist described the location as approximately five miles south of Mexican Wells. He expressed the opinion the cave should be made a national park.

"It would be to California what Carlsbad is to New Mexico," he said.

'Branding' Stray Hubbies Asked By Woman's Club

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP) — The (take a deep breath) "S. F. P. O. M. M. P. A. B." wants to brand stray husbands—so they can be spotted at a glance.

"The Society for the Prevention of Married Men Posing as Bachelors" proposed today that "all married men be compelled to wear wedding rings."

Miss Jessie Arnett, past president of Oklahoma's Business and Professional Women's clubs and founder of the mouthful of initials explained:

"Most of the girls I know don't have much time to waste. We need to know, right off, whether a man is married or not."

WRITER OF U. C. HYMN DIES

MARYSVILLE, (AP) — Harold W. Bingham, 46, who as a member of the class of 1906 wrote the University of California's hymn, "All Hail Blue and Gold," was killed by a foreman he had discharged on his Villa Nueva, Argentina, stock ranch, it was learned here today.

Bingham, son of the late A. C. Bingham, Marysville banker, had been in South America for 25 years. A letter received yesterday by a relative, Mrs. J. J. Hamlyn of Sacramento, from the American consul in Argentina disclosed details of the tragedy.

On an inspection tour of his large ranch, Bingham ousted Modesto Lamarque, foreman. The discharged man fatally stabbed the former Californian; fired Bingham's gun, left the weapon by the body and pleaded self defense. A small boy, however, witnessed the attack, and Lamarque subsequently was condemned to Magellen Island.

FAMINE AND QUAKE HIT SHANTUNG

SHANGHAI, (AP) — Officials of the China International Famine Relief committee returning from Shantung province reported today that floods, famine and earthquakes have brought the greatest calamity within 50 years to that rich area.

A million Chinese were said to be homeless and destitute. Another million were verging on ruin. Floods were described as worse than the disastrous inundations of 1935.

While world attention focused on the Chinese-Japanese war, famine relief committee members said Shantung province, the rich maritime region north of Shanghai, has been visited by successive earthquakes which touched 51 counties.

Japanese troops advancing into Shantung from conquered Hopi province to the north were said to have broken dikes on the grand canal for military purposes, thus heightening the flood situation.

ETHIOPIAN WAR HERO IS HONORED

NEW YORK. (AP)—Eight days of being feted by the crème-de-la-crème and top-hatted upper crust of New York society were over today for the only white man who went into battle with the Ethiopian army in the late war in Africa.

But that wasn't why Capt. John Meade, a descendant of the Major General George Meade who won the Battle of Gettysburg, was being honored and dined by Park Avenue dowagers and debutantes. Few of them knew he was gulping down raw meat with chieftains, dodging pot shots from bandits and sweltering in 148 degrees Fahrenheit in Ethiopia a year and a half ago.

LEADS BATTERY

All most of them knew was that he was commanding officer of the Black Horse artillery battery which performed an exhibition drill at the national horse show that made the favorites of past years, the Canadian Mounties, look like sissies.

Every night, the box seat patrons at Madison Square Garden almost jumped out of their seats as his riders from Fort Myer, Va., raced at terrifying speed around the arena, their three-ton cannon frequently skidding and splintering up the wooden enclosure. They provided the most spectacular feature of the show which closed last night.

TOUGH ASSIGNMENT
"Eight days of the horse show was a tougher assignment than my eight months in Ethiopia," said the youthful captain. "Probably none of the spectators knew that I nearly cracked two nights ago when we almost turned over a limber (the carriage in front of the gun), which would have meant certain injury to a rider and two horses."

Capt. Meade was American military attaché in Ethiopia, and it was he who flashed the word to Washington that the war was over. He was the only military observer to travel to the front with the emperor and his imperial guard.

FILM EXTRA IS COURT LOSER

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Patricia Douglas, 20, film extra, lost a second round yesterday in her effort to collect $500,000 damages from Producer Hal Roach as the result of a studio party last May 5.

A demurrer to Miss Douglas' new complaint was allowed today and her counsel was given 20 days to file a second complaint. The first complaint also was invalidated. The court held that the amended complaint had not clearly alleged any connection between the alleged attack charged against David Ross, film salesman, and the party the girl says was arranged by Roach and the other defendants.

POSTAL CLERK HELD FOR THEFT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The arrest of Aron Arveit, 53, postal clerk in the Ferry station, on a mail embezzlement charge was announced today by C. W. Pfaffenberger, postoffice inspector in charge of the western division.

Arveit, in the postal service 11 years, is married and has one child. His home is in Berkeley.

Pfaffenberger said that in compliance with routine procedure, Arveit would be questioned concerning the theft of $40,000 last March 20 from a $200,000 federal reserve bank shipment en route from the Ferry station to Oakland.

Earlier this month, John J. Houchin, clerk in the Ferry station, was arrested on a charge of theft of a letter containing $10, and told inspectors he escaped from the New Mexico prison 17 years ago where he was serving a term on a second degree murder conviction.

Camouflage for War on Insects

WASHINGTON, D. C. (American Wire)—Camouflaged insecticides is the latest development in the battle against crop pests, a patent issued Mayne R. Coe, of the department of agriculture, reveals. He has discovered a solution which, mixed with insect poison, conceals it and protects it against sun rays.

TEACHER LOSES PRISON APPEAL

RICHMOND, Va., (AP)—Edith Maxwell, Wise county school teacher twice convicted of killing her father, lost her appeal for a third trial in the Virginia supreme court of appeals today.

The state's highest tribunal upheld the Wise circuit court in its sentence of 20 years in the penitentiary for the comely former instructor in the Pound school.

Miss Maxwell was arrested after her father died, in the summer of 1935, following a domestic quarrel. Convicted and sentenced to 25 years in prison the following November she obtained a reversal in the supreme court.

She was given 20 years on the second conviction.

Russians Worry Over Train Fete

MOSCOW. (American Wire)—The approaching centennial of the first passenger train in Russia is causing wrinkled brows and head-scratching among Soviet officials. They would like to celebrate it with appropriate ceremonies, but everything connected with the first train's inception is czarist. Czar Nicholas I got the inspiration when he visited England in 1816 and it was under his orders that a train copied from the English trains was built.

EMERALD BAY PROTESTS BOOST IN TAXES

IN COLONY
UP FOR SALEComplaints Sent to Local Assessor

Fuel was heaped on the fire of controversy raging between Supervisor N. E. West and Assessor James Sleeper today, as residents of Emerald Bay district, Laguna Beach, rose to protest what they termed "unreasonable" increases in tax bills.

Complaints received by Sleeper held that bills had increased from 50 per cent in most instances to 90 per cent in others.

Repercussions of the bay-dwellers' protests rocked through real estate circles in the art colony, as six homes were offered for sale this week, The Journal learned, as a direct result of the tax controversy.

One spokesman for the disgruntled property owners told The Journal:

TO LEAVE COUNTY

"According to the real estate people taxes based on my lot should be around $80—that is what most people around me paid last year—but mine were $122.50, and jumped 90 per cent on the current bill."

"There is one thing I can do. As soon as I can sell I will leave Orange county, as so many others are going to do."

"Five people here in the bay have their homes for sale since receiving their tax bills, and mine is the sixth. In the last four years many fine people have been coming to Orange county and building lovely homes. The tax people have gone haywire. With all the new homes it was just too much for them to stand."

"Phenomenal" increases in real estate values in the beach districts were blamed by the assessor's office yesterday for the jumps in tax bills.

WEST-SLEEPER FEUD

In the meantime, West's charges that there were "wholesale mistakes" in Assessor Sleeper's tax lists, and Sleeper's counter-charges that West's record was liable to suspicion, may become a matter of investigation for the current grand jury.

The West-Sleeper controversy reached its heights Wednesday when the assessor, generally slow to anger, fired a broadside blast at the fiery supervisor from Laguna Beach, in answer to the charges hurled by West in board meeting.

Sleeper this week had promised an investigation to disgruntled taxpayers of Emerald Bay.

Investigate
Double Suicide

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—Deputy Coroner E. P. Doyle closed his investigation today of what he termed the double suicide of Aubrey N. Hobbs, 32, and his wife, Nancy, 28.

Mrs. Hobbs was found asphyxiated in her automobile near a cemetery here yesterday, 24 hours after Hobbs had shot himself to death in their mountain cabin near Crestline. A torn property settlement lay near his body and Doyle said there was other evidence they had had domestic difficulties.

A note taken from Mrs. Hobbs' purse said: "Please lay me by him, as close as I can be."

They will be buried here Sunday in adjoining cemetery plots which she had purchased just before her death.

I JUST FOUND
OUT—How a Bail Bond
Man Does Business

By MILLARD BROWNE

The sign in his window reads, "Bail bonds, day or night." And it means just that. Because Ernie Webb, Orange county's only bail bondsman, does nearly half of his business at night.

Some citizen may have celebrated too freely, got tossed in the clink on drunk or drunk driving charges, and had to call Webb to avoid spending the night in jail. Another may have argued with his neighbor, been booked for disturbing the peace, and needed someone to get him out.

About 40 per cent of these incidents occur after dark—and most of them happen on the week-ends. Which puts Webb to work while most people are sleeping or partying.

Bail bonding is one of the most misunderstood of professions, Webb complains. Because unethical bondsmen are linked so directly with the biggest of big-time criminals, the whole business gets a black eye.

Webb is glad he isn't working in Los Angeles, where cut-throat competition is a by-word among many of the bond writing brotherhood. Down here most of his business comes from infrequent offenders or people who just overstepped the bounds of temperate liquor consumption or moderate driving speeds.

Ethical bondsmen, he insists, distinctly do not stand by ready to "spring" any crook who has the price. Some bondsmen do, but they're merely the ones who correspond to the medical profession's quacks and the legal profession's shysters and ambulance chasers.

Webb rejects a good number of prospective customers, claiming he wouldn't touch some cases, like those involving morals offenses, with a 10-foot pole. Says he's only written one bond where the defendant was sent to the penitentiary.

Writing bail bonds is just like selling any other bonds, Ernie points out—except that his is an emergency business. The customer is always in trouble, demands immediate action, so there isn't much time for bondsmen to investigate.

That makes bail bonds more risky than other kinds, also makes the interest rate higher. Two per cent of each bond is put in a reserve fund to take care of those who jump bail. "It's all based on risk, and the good ones have to pay for the bad ones," explains Webb.

Bail bonds in effect are surety bonds that guarantee faithful performance of a defendant. If he jumps bail, or fails to appear for any required hearing, responsibility lies with the bonding company, which has guaranteed to bring in the defendant or the bail money.

That makes Webb something of a private detective, since he has to get out and do his own investigating when one of his customers jumps. He's had some rather exciting chases after defaulting defendants.

Most forfeitures are on small bonds. Bondsmen usually are more careful to secure the bigger ones. Best security on small bonds usually are a family or a job, because defendants won't often run out unless the charge is important enough to make it worth while.

This theory fooled Webb once, though. A young San Diego man who had a wife, two youngsters and a full-time job with the city was booked for reckless driving. He looked like a good risk, and Webb posted a $250 bond. The youth jumped bond, quit his job, left his family and went back to Tennessee.

But he came back, because he wanted to see his children. On his second return trip Webb got a tip and picked the youth up at his former home.

Best way to catch a defendant who's jumped bail is to find a place where he has money coming in. It works nine times in 10, Webb claimed, citing one such experience. One of his clients was released on $250 bail from Tustin justice court and left town a few months ago. Webb found he had money credited to him in a Pomona business establishment, camped there three full days, and on the fourth day the youth walked in—"well camouflaged"—to get his money.

The Santa Ana broker concedes his profession has been frequently—and sometimes justifiably—attacked because some bail bondsmen are in collusion with malicious criminal elements. He defends the business, though, on grounds that it offers a service to society by providing real equality before the law.

"Wealthy people who get in trouble can post cash bail and stay out of jail," he argues. "Bail bonds give the same privilege to not-so-wealthy ones."

Webb handles bonds for men, women and juvenile defendants, says his business in drunk and drunk driving cases has increased since repeal. He makes bail for quite a number of women arrested on drunk and reckless driving charges these days, rarely had such case during prohibition.

Here's an interesting sideline to the bail bond business: Wives and friends of drunks continually come to his office, not to arrange for bail, but to plead with him not to make bond, on

SMILEY TO PRESIDE AT NUT MEETING

J. A. Smiley, West Orange walnut and citrus grower, will be chairman of the state-wide conference of nut growers at Modesto next week, according to announcement today from the office of the California Farm Bureau Federation at Berkeley. The conference will be held Monday, Nov. 15, at Hotel Covell, from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., and will attract growers from all parts of the state where all varieties of nuts are grown. The entire morning session will be devoted to walnut growing and marketing problems. Among the speakers are A. W. Christie, California Walnut Growers association; E. F. Surr, Agricultural Extension Service; and William Goodspeed, Walnut Control board.

The afternoon session will be devoted to other nut crops including almonds, chestnuts, pecans. A. J. McFadden, chairman of the California prorate commission, and Alex Johnson, secretary of the California Farm Bureau Federation, also are scheduled as conference speakers.

The citrus growers departments of the California farm bureau federation also will meet at Modesto on the same date, according to C. Jack Zinn, chairman of the Orange county citrus department. The citrus program includes present speakers on timely problems confronting the industry in California.

Among the subjects to be discussed are: "Progress in Handling Frozen Citrus Juice Fruit" by E. M. Chace, chemist, U. S. department of agriculture laboratory, Los Angeles; "Economic Effect of Canned and Frozen Fruit Juices on Fresh Citrus Fruits" by C. P. Wilson, Exchange Orange Products company, Ontario; "The Possibility of Securing Nitrates from Muscle Shoals, or Other Water Power Development" by Chester Gray, American Farm Bureau Federation, Washington, D. C.; "The Use of Production Credit Facilities by Citrus Growers" by T. P. Coats, president, Production Credit corporation of Berkeley; "Economic Information on the Orange Industry of the World" by Dr. H. R. Wellman, associate agricultural economist, Berkeley; and "Some of the Citrus Problems of California" by F. F. Heidenfelt, California Fruit Growers exchange.

grounds jail will teach their husband or friend a lesson.

"That's offset, though, by the wives or near relatives who have a man arrested to break him of the drinking habit, then relent and try to get him out on bond two or three hours later," Webb remarked.

TAKEN FOR RIDE
BELLEVILLE, Ill. — Deputy Sheriff Calvin Nesbit stopped his car with a "get in, boys" as two would-be-hitch-hikers waved their thumbs.

The joy of the willing "passengers" was short-lived. They were jail trustees who had walked away from the county jail more than 24 hours before.

CONVINCED
HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. — When Commissioner of Public Works E. S. Melton received telephone complaints that several automobiles were mired in a city street, he arose, dressed hurriedly and drove to the scene.

Melton's car bogged down, too, and he had to await his turn as a wrecker extricated the mired autos.

The street will be repaired, says Melton.

THANKSGIVING DAY AHEAD
COLUMBUS, Nebr. — Thieves stealthily took six turkeys from Joe Thomas, farmer near here. Then they returned the turkeys just as stealthily.

Thomas credited their return to fear instilled by an officer's announcement he had some "hot clues" and intended to make several arrests.

Santa Ana Women
Form Loan Fund

Chosen as their latest philanthropy by the Santa Ana chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, a new scholarship loan fund has recently been established at Occidental college in Eagle Rock. To be known as the "Charlie Louise Montgomery Loan Fund," the scholarship aid is in memory of the late Mrs. Victor Montgomery, of Santa Ana.

The first payment of $125 having been subscribed, additional payments will be made this year and in the following years.

Mrs. Montgomery was the aunt of Dr. A. G. Coons, dean of men at Occidental. Her daughters, Misses Louise and Gertrude Montgomery, are both members of the Santa Ana Daughters of the Confederacy.

METHODS OF PRUNING TREES TOLD

It is yet too early to draw conclusions on merits of early pruning or late pruning of avocado trees, Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg told growers attending the recent avocado growers institute at La Habra.

The farm advisor reported on his observations of pruning avocados following the damaging freeze of January, 1937. He said there apparently are two schools of thought among growers at the present time in regard to pruning frost-killed trees.

Those who favor early pruning, Wahlberg said, submit that the trees look better when dead wood is taken out, take less time to prune the first time over, and seem to fill in heavier foliage during the season.

The late pruning school contends that several months' delay gives the grower an opportunity to better detect differentiation between vigorous and weak wood. They also observe that although the following season's growth is possibly not as heavy as that following early pruning, the growth that does occur appears to be less succulent and deeper green color. The new growth appears to be less debilitating on the tree, resulting in more energy reservation for fruit production.

The latter contention will take another season to prove, said the farm advisor. A close study will be made by the agriculture extension service the next two seasons to observe the yields and quality of fruit produced by trees pruned early as compared with late pruning.

Women to Discuss Meat Cookery

A demonstration of meat selection and preparation will feature a morning session of the Anaheim home department in the Orange County Farm bureau headquarters tomorrow. Mrs. H. H. Freese, chairman of the department, will conduct the meeting.

Former Local Flier Will Build Super-Airplane

The sputtering, box-kite contraption that lifted young Glenn Martin a few feet off the ground here 26 years ago has grown up.

Today it is a super-clipper ship, three times the size of Martin's Pan-American clippers—an ocean transport plane with the largest wingspread of any airplane ever built in this country.

Construction will begin soon on the super-plane, the Glenn L. Martin company announced today in Baltimore, but which air line will own it remained a secret.

The ship will be able to fly the Pacific in a single hop, or to make a round-trip non-stop flight to Europe, the company, headed by the former Santa Ana flier, announced. It will have a wingspread of 188 feet and will carry 100 passengers by day or 66 at night.

Flint Speaks At A.A.U.W. Meeting

Appropriately discussing "Security and Peace in Europe" Calvin Flint, dean of men at the junior college, last night addressed a meeting of the Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women, held at the Y. W. C. A.

A keen analysis of alliances past, present, and future was presented by the speaker, who has traveled extensively, and taught, abroad. He declared that Europe's hope for peace lies in its alliances, as well as the individual nations' financial security.

Flint was introduced by Miss Mabel McFadden, program chairman, after Miss Mabel Whiting, president, had conducted a business meeting. Among reports given was a summary of last month's Southern California convention of A. A. U. W. members at Glendale, given by Mrs. Horace Scott who was official delegate from Santa Ana. Mrs. Edith Thatcher announced a two-day session of the Pacific Southwest Educational conference today and tomorrow in Los Angeles.

The "Recent Graduates" group of the local organization will have a dinner meeting Dec. 1 at the Green Cat, it was announced by Mrs. Oleta Scott. That group includes those who have been graduated within the past 10 years from a university.

Last night's meeting concluded with a tea course served by Miss Eleanor Metzgar. Miss Ethel Walker presided over the smartly appointed table with its patriotic, red, white, and blue color scheme.

W. C. T. U. HEARS MEMORIAL SERVICE

Members of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U., meeting in the Congregational church bungalow Tuesday afternoon heard reports of the state convention held in Santa Monica and participated in a memorial service honoring the memory of Mrs. Laura Leonard, who was evangelistic director.

Mrs. Effie Means, president of the union, conducted the business period, and Mrs. Amy Evans the devotional service. Mrs. Mellie Vance was appointed to fill the vacant post.

Miss Emily Cox gave a report of work that has been accomplished by the unions, and announced the start of the "Second Mile" in raising a second $500,000 for educational work throughout the United States. Mrs. Artie Warner, vice president, gave a general report of local activities.

A special visitor at the meeting was Mrs. D. Reddick of Toronto, Canada, who told of the splendid entertainment Canadian delegates were given by United States delegates at the world's convention in Washington, D. C.

NEW DANCING CLASS OPENED FOR TUSTINITES

Students in the seventh and eighth grades from Tustin grammar school have just formed a dancing class meeting each Monday evening at 7 p. m. at the Putnam School of Dancing. Miss Mary Morton is teacher of the class and new owner of the school.

Janet Harbour, Lawrence Hart, David Matson, Mat Nisson, Virginia Riel, Tommy Shedd, Margaret Sharpless, Lawrence West, Barbara Young, Don Yunque, Albert Rolland, Emily Mitchell, Barbara Cox, Jimmy Thayer, Ralph Sinker, Ruth Allison, Doris Brown, Mary Louise Lane, Olive Pique, Max Segraves, and John Prescott.

Paprika—a cross between rust and piminto—is one of the fall's new shades. It comes to town in this modestly priced frock of sheer wool crepe designed with a high neck-line and dart detail at the shoulders. A brown suede belt and beret are the accessories.

JOHN MUIR P-T. A. PLANS COMING EVENTS

Important plans for coming events were made Wednesday when the executive board of the John Muir P-T. A. met in the schoolhouse for a business session conducted by Mrs. Carl Warner, president.

All members were urged to attend the Mothers' Study group which meets jointly with the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association in Roosevelt school each Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock.

Arrangements were announced for Father's night to be observed Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m., in John Muir school, with Mrs. Edna Ingham's fifth grade presenting a program. A puppet show, a "Mexican Muppet Show," will be presented, and Miss Stella L. Mueller will tell of her recent trip to Mexico. Hostesses for the affair will be Mrs. Ernest Ballow and Mrs. Howard McKee.

CHILD STUDY GROUP PLANS BENEFIT

A very enthusiastic group gathered last night at the home of Mrs. Earl Elson in Orange for the regular meeting of Child Study section of Junior and Senior Ebells. Co-hostesses were Mrs. R. F. McKee and Mrs. Hans Wahlberg.

An interesting talk on "How We Behave When Our Children Misbehave" was given by Mrs. Newell Moore, after which a round table discussion was enjoyed. Mrs. Thoburn White, leader, conducted a business meeting at which the section planned to give a benefit dessert bridge party later in the year.

A concluding tea course was served from an exceptionally attractive table, centered with lovely sprays of Banner of Spain, and orange and yellow tapers. Mrs. White and Mrs. Aubrey Glines poured.

Nuptials Are Revealed To Friends

Although friends and relatives of Miss Maxine Lucille Hazen and Howard C. Clark were expecting a wedding ceremony yesterday, they were totally unprepared for the sudden announcement that the young couple had been married a little more than a year.

Following the announcement, which came as a complete surprise to even the parents of the couple, they left on a belated honeymoon trip to Lake Arrowhead. Mr. Clark has been transferred to San Bernardino from San Diego, and the couple plan to make their home at 115 Orange street, Rialto, when they return from Lake Arrowhead.

Miss Hazen became the bride of Howard Clark on Nov. 8, 1936, during ceremonies performed in the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Ocean-side. The Rev. Earl Haydock, pastor of the church, performed the rites, with L. E. Haydock and Miss Marguerite R. Haydock as witnesses.

The new Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hazen, 409 East Myrtle street. She is a graduate of Tustin Union High school, and attended a Santa Ana business college. The bridegroom was graduated from Santa Ana high school, and is associated with the bridge and building department of Santa Fe railways.

HOMEMAKERS OF TUSTIN HAVE MEETING

The home department of the Tustin Farm Center had an enjoyable all day meeting Wednesday in Orange, studying the selection and preparation of meat under direction of Miss Frances Liles. Project assistants were Mrs. Bertha Flint and Mrs. E. H. House.

Later a potluck luncheon and business meeting over which Mrs. Charles Whitney presided, enjoyed. Mrs. G. D. Grisette reported on recent activities of the Tustin Live Wires club, and Mrs. Frank Jones gave a county director's report.

Present were the Mesdames Charles Whitney, G. D. Grisette, Archie Sollee, A. M. Robinson, Earl Shoemaker, Frank Jones, John Dunstan, J. L. Hill, William Hazen, Frank Greenwood, L. R. Stearns, Leon Lauderbach, Bertha Flint, E. H. House, L. A. Bortz, A. L. Ellis, Anton Borchard, Gerald Rannels and Miss Liles.

PARTY TONIGHT AT VANDERMASTS

Mrs. Walter Vandermast will entertain at an informal dinner party this evening complimenting her husband on his birthday anniversary. Sharing in the quiet life party will be Mr. and Mrs. Newell Vandermast and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stein.

One afternoon this week Mrs. Vandermast entertained Mrs. Elmer Bowers of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Walter Skillman and Mrs. Charles Isaacson of Fullerton at luncheon, inviting them to her home for contract.

EDISON WOMEN HEAR REVIEW OF NOVEL

A clever review of "Queen's Folly" by Ellsworth Thane given by Mrs. Edith Cloyes provided an interesting program for the meeting of the Edison Women's committee held Tuesday evening in the Santa Ana division office.

The program was under the direction of Ruth Stone, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau committee, assisted by Betty Upshaw and Theresa Nussbaum. James Dickson of the Edison company demonstrated the points of advantage in electrical cookery.

A business session preceded the program when Ida Aspinell of Anaheim told of an afternoon's entertainment in Los Angeles recently when tea was served in the home of Mrs. Jeanette I. Rees, general chairman of all women's committees. The 45 guests attending, including outgoing and incoming chairmen and yearbook chairmen of various districts told their accomplishments for the past year.

EBELL TO HOLD RUMMAGE SALE NOV. 18

Plans for Junior Ebells' rummage sale to raise funds for its welfare work among needy mothers are going on apace under the direction of Mrs. G. Stanley Norton, general chairman and second vice president of the Juniors.

The sale will be held Nov. 18 at 514 East Fourth street, and contributions will be received there for two days preceding. Anyone with donations to be called for is asked to call Mrs. Norton.

Assisting her with arrangements are Mrs. Russell Sullivan, Miss Mary Tutill, Mrs. Ray Tarr, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. James Workman, Mrs. LeRoy Burns, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. Alvin Stauffer, Mrs. William Grey, Mrs. Joseph Winder, Miss Marian Brownridge, Mrs. Charles McDaniel, Mrs. Newell Vandermast, Miss Martha Tutill and Mrs. Paul Hales.

Luncheon Is Given Past Officers

Inrequent but always delightful are get-togethers of the Past Presidents of the Ebells club. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. C. V. Davis and Mrs. Paul Bailey joined as hostesses to their fellow past executives and entertained at a luncheon party.

A colorful autumn table greeted guests upon their arrival at the Doris-Kathryn tearoom, with flowers and gifts being flanked by matching tapers. Two little flags recalled the holiday.

Particularly enjoyable was the presence of Mrs. J. E. Gowen who has been confined by a long illness. After luncheon the group adjourned to the Bowers' Memorial Museum for a pleasantly informal afternoon of inspection. They were conducted through the building by Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator, and member of the Past Presidents' club.

Unable to be present were Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. R. G. Tutill, and Mrs. S. W. Stanley. Those who were able to attend, and who have planned another party for the first of the year, were Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. S. M. Davis, Mrs. Edward Neally, Mrs. J. Cruikshank, Mrs. Sam Nau, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. John Clarkson, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. F. C. Rowland, and the hostesses, Mrs. Bailey, and Mrs. Davis.

SECTION ENJOYS CONTRACT GAME

Twenty-one members of the Fifth Household Economics section of Ebells were present Tuesday afternoon when a luncheon was served to the group at noon, followed by an afternoon of contract.

The hostesses had used button chrysanthemums in pink pastel shades for table decorations. Later a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. L. E. Allen of Tustin, when members planned a gift exchange for their Christmas meeting.

One new member, Mrs. Frank Laman, was taken into the section. Prizes for the contract games were won by Mrs. Anne Towner Rasm with high score and Mrs. Cood Adams with second.

ATTEND LUNCH AT CLAREMONT

A quintet of Santa Ana matrons drove to Claremont today to be luncheon guests at an informal affair given by Mrs. Nelle Babson, former popular Santa Ana.

In the party were Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Mrs. Harry Hanson, Mrs. Will Spurgeon, Mrs. E. D. White and Mrs. Mark Lacy.

REBEKAHS PLAN BAZAR DEC. 4

More than 100 members and visitors attended a meeting of Torosa Rebekah lodge Wednesday night, to which a "penny supper" was served. Mrs. Gladys McDonald presided over a business meeting. Members were reminded of the bazar and cooked food sale which the organization will sponsor Dec. 4 at 407 West Fourth street.

Romantic Tale Is Recalled By Padua Performance

Every month or so, summer and winter, the scissors grinder comes to the costume department of the Padua Hills theater. He is an old man, but he is quick of step and gesture. There is a glint in his eye, a reminiscent gleam of other places and more stirring times. He asks no favors and expects none.

"Scissors to grind?" he asks. "It is more of a command than a query, for there are always a plenty of dull shears when a show is in preparation, and he knows it."

"Well, I'll take a look," he says, and proceeds to do so. Shears around him, his feet shod under his portable bench, he sets to work. Carefully and skillful, as befits a man with an honest trade, he gives each pair a handsome and satisfying edge. Then, having been paid, he folds his bench, touches two fingers to a battered hat in a sort of martial salute, and strides off down the hall, not to be seen again for a month or two.

It is an afternoon in October. It is hot. The sun is shimmering on the olive trees when the scissors grinder knocks on the door of the costume department. The familiar greeting, the customary routine follows, but this time as he folds up his bench his eye strays to a poster on the wall.

"Adelita," he says. "So that's the play you are going to put on." "It's about Pancho Villa," replies Kathryn Welch, head of the department.

The scissors grinder nods, but there it is a tentative note.

"The Mexican bandit," explains Miss Welch. "Adelita," mutters the old man. "A pretty name."

"And a pretty girl. She falls in love with Pancho and he with her. That's what the story is about. You must come and see it."

"I think I will, Miss." The scissors grinder walks to the door. There he pauses while he looks down at his dusty boots. "I'll come up right soon," he says, giving the martial salute. "Once I was a colonel in Pancho's army."

His tall figure disappears among the shimmering olive trees. The scissors grinder is a man of few words. But he will come again when the shears are dull.

Mary Stoddard Unwed Mothers Fault of Society; Too Many Factors Govern Marriage

Is marriage set too far into the future? Is matrimony governed by many other things when it should be largely instinct that guides young men and women into a future together? A correspondent who signs herself "Teacher" answers these questions in the affirmative. She discusses particularly the plight of unwed mothers in the following letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I hope it is not too late to say a few words about the unwed mother whose case was discussed several weeks ago.

I, too, think the judge who gave her a suspended sentence is to be praised for his keen sense of real justice. Certainly the girl has suffered enough. It is only Christian to give her another chance—a far better chance than she had before the tragedy came to her.

Economic and social conditions for which all adults are responsible because we do nothing to better these conditions, place upon all of us a certain blame for such cases.

I hold deep score for women who trample in the dirt such girls, when I think of the married woman who practices birth control because they do not want to accept motherhood. Are they not just as guilty as that unwed mother, whose mad attempt to rid herself of a burden she fears is too great for her to carry?

There are several reasons for unwed mothers. We should work to remedy these causes instead of heaping more misery upon the victims of false ideas that govern social conduct. It is perfectly normal to mate the sexes—to have babies. These are natural laws. But man has not worked to attain the best results from natural laws by trying to evade these laws.

So, for purely selfish reasons, mostly to suit some whim on the part of the parents, youth is denied privilege of responding normally to natural urges.

Marriage is set far into the future, governed by many other things instead of the instinct which guides each to select a mate suited to his or her needs (not that of their meddling parents or friends).

Youth needs to be fully instructed in the matters of sex, for in that is based all of human betterment or misery.

Youth needs instruction in the responsibilities of life. They should have economic conditions that allow them to marry and carry forth a home. Many youth would marry if they "could afford it." Perhaps this was the cause of this girl being unwed, leaving this couple with two terrific problems to face—a natural urge they neither properly understood or knew how to control and lack of money to maintain a home to even get a marriage license!

What does it profit society that the unwed mother is subjected to scorn, making another terrible thing to be faced, until the poor girl is driven insane with her attempts to adjust herself to a problem too big for her? It seems to me the limit of human cruelty.

Again, it seems the ones who are responsible for the system of thoughts that place this torture on its victims are the ones who should suffer because they created the shame.

I do not believe in taking babies away from these girls. I believe they should be given every chance to mother their children after they have suffered to produce them. I think society owes these victims of circumstances every chance to overcome this error, to retain self-respect.

I never have believed in a double standard of morals. I have yet to learn of an innocent girl starting a wrong sex relation. In every case I know of, could be traced an older male who was the first aggressor.

Please let us all work to remedy causes—to help instead of hindering. Sincerely,
A TEACHER.

MARY HAMPTON'S Column

If I insert "The God's Being Willing" in all future suggestions about what to wear, it will be on account of the temperamental caprices of old man Weather. Before leaving San Francisco (I am in the sunny south now) such heat overwhelmed the city that most of us felt like Marx comedians doing a knock-kneed will. And all along the coast route, where now and then fresh autumn breezes are supposed to make us put on coats, there wasn't a sign of one. Perhaps the breezes have gone sensation hunting over China way.

Indeed the best-laid plans of fashions writers and women have all gone awry this autumn.

So when "Southerner" asks me what to take for a motor trip north, visiting Tahoe, the Redwood Highway, San Francisco and other points, I really must say, "Take everything—cool and warm." What one does not need, however, is lots of afternoon frocks and dress-up clothes, if they are doing an average sight-seeing jaunt.

Just one lovely, short dinner or dressy afternoon frock can take care of practically all average dress-up situations. The rest of the clothes should be travel-sport.

Because Indian Summer is so variable now toward the end, it is wisest to take along both summer sport frocks for driving and a light wool—frock or sweater and skirt—in case of sudden change to cold. And in either case, there must always be a warm topcoat handy. It is fairly safe to suggest a new Fall wool sport frock for the new purchase—for as soon as the early winter sun goes down, suddenly it is cold. And that it does turn cold now. And that allows us to change to wool for casual evening and supper—even though we do just walk around the town or take in a movie! Or—the loveliest hotels by the road (or the sea)—call for just such a smart sport frock in the dining room. There is little dressing aside from special nights.

Dear Bertha—A week is usually too little time to allow for an answer to a letter, so often I am away lecturing—or jaunting down south—as now. And then letters must all be forwarded! Now about this navy ensemble, it needs some very colorful little accessory touches for this season. And the older a woman is, the more dazzling the little color touches must be—to give her sparkle and life. Fit her a hat with many colors, if you can find something becoming and suitable—perhaps another blue and red. And then find a good-looking clip in the same bright colors for your neck. Then

Miss Spicer Hostess At Supper

Charming among the pre-holiday parties was the buffet supper at which Miss Mildred Spicer entertained Wednesday evening in the North Park boulevard home of her mother, Mrs. Charles Spicer.

Tall white tapers flanked golden chrysanthemums to decorate the table from which supper was served by the hostess and her mother. Later the guests went to the theater, and returned to the Spicer home for late refreshments.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Scripps, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Horton, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Elstrom, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Rhone, Mr. and Mrs. Braden Finch, Miss Katherine Cornwell of La Jolla, James McLain, James Adams, and the hostess.

SEVEN TABLES IN PLAY AT BENEFIT

Seven tables were in play Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. C. L. Carnes opened her home, 1009 Oak street, for a benefit card party of the St. Anne's Altar society.

Mrs. Carnes had used bouquets of white chrysanthemums throughout her home, and late in the afternoon served refreshments on individual trays, carrying out a pastel motif.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Sheelar and Mrs. Anton Borchard in contract, by Mrs. B. C. Hille-sheim and Mrs. Anthony Osterkamp for five hundred.

WARNING ON WORN TIRES BROADCAST

"Winter ahead! Beware of worn tires and slippery pavements."

That's the warning issued this week by R. C. Tucker, tire sales manager for the Pacific Division of U. S. Tire Dealers Mutual Corporation, as he pointed to the greatly increased number of traffic accidents due to skidding that occur during winter months.

"Worn, thin tires are a real safety hazard at any time of the year but on wet, wintry pavements they are doubly dangerous," Mr. Tucker said. "Every motorist should have the tires on his car carefully inspected

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Someone has a nickel worth $50 and William Garrison has a package of chewing tobacco he hasn't the heart to chew.

He had the nickel, a 1913 Liberty head coin, in his pocket when he entered a store to buy the tobacco. Accidentally he gave the storekeeper the $50 nickel for the tobacco. He had been keeping the coin for a long time. A Boulder collector has made the $50 offer for the nickel.

before entering the winter driving season. Casings that are worn smooth should be replaced immediately and those that are partially worn should be watched closely.

"That car owners are aware of the importance of having safe, anti-skid tires for winter driving is apparent in the mounting sales of the new U. S. Royal Master tire reported by Pacific Coast dealers," Mr. Tucker added.

"The Royal Master is especially designed for wet, skiddy streets. Its patented deskid process divides the tread into hundreds of sharp-edged blocks which grip the road surface with a centipede-like grip and wipe it dry, thus eliminating both forward and side skids. Actual tests prove that this amazing new safety tread will stop a car in two-thirds the distance required by ordinary anti-skid tires."

THE END OF A PERFECT (?) WINTER DAY

LOCAL MOBIL DEALERS TO PROTECT CARS

Start Inspection To Ward Off Danger

The Winterproofing movement is now under way. To assure motorists the safety, proper performance and attractive appearance of their cars for the colder days ahead, operators of Mobilgas and Mobiloil service stations throughout this area have started a great "prepare for winter drive" by offering free inspection service to their customers.

C. H. Wartman of all cars driven into their places of business for lubrication.

"Everything visible about a car," says C. H. Wartman, Southern California General Manager for General Petroleum Corporation, "comes under the eagle eye and experienced hands of the Mobilgas station man during this free-examination Winterproofing period."

SAFETY, ECO MY
"These inspections assure safe, comfortable, care-free economical operation and maintenance costs to weather period, and also reduce operation and maintenance costs to the minimum."

Tires, battery, lights, windshield wipers, spark plugs, body bolts, fan belt and oil filter are among the things that come under this careful scrutiny, it is explained. It is also noted that critical examination and flushing of radiators, strainers and fuel lines, gasoline tank, crankcase, transmission, differential, and other important parts, are included.

"One of the factors stressed in the interests of motorists," continues the Mobilgas and Mobiloil executive, "is that heavy summer oil and grease should be replaced with lighter lubrications to guard against undue friction, drag or resistant mechanical difficulties."

THOUGHTLESSNESS EXPENSE
"It is shown by records that a large percentage of accidents and many repair bills are the direct result of carelessness or thoughtlessness in car upkeep. In order that winter motorists may run no risks, in order that their cars may perform at peak efficiency at the lowest cost of upkeep, our Winterproofing plan has been inaugurated, similar in purpose and operation to the Summerizing plan which proved so popular in this area last spring."

"Because of the busy travel days ahead, when cars will be put to additional strain, due to cold, damp weather, this plan should be deservedly popular."

William Fyenne, famous as the author of a book attacking actors and the theater, also wrote a volume entitled "The Unloveliness of Love-Locks, or, A Summary Discourse proving the wearing and nourishing of a lock, or love-lock, to be altogether unseemly, and unlawful unto Christians."

Motorists Save Money By Proper Tire Inflation

That proper tire inflation is more important than most motorists suspect was brought to light recently when tire engineers announced that one pound of under-inflation takes 800 miles from the life of a tire. Thus car owners who want to get the utmost economy as well as greater safety and riding comfort are urged to keep a close eye on correct tire inflation.

Among services regularly practiced in Mobilgas stations, say local dealers, is the inspection of tires and their inflation to the correct pressure to promote long wear and easy riding, and prevent trouble on the road.

Also, it is explained that whenever a car is placed on a Mobilubrication rack for checking and lubricating, the tires are thoroughly examined, all tacks, nails or glass particles removed and any blemishes inspected to make sure they will not lead to blowouts.

Especially during the Winterproof period, and at all times, in fact, this tire examination is regular practice at Mobilgas stations.

"In one year," Bayly says, "7,360 cars were involved in accidents due to punctures or blowouts of worn tires; 9,750 were involved in mishaps due to one or both headlights failing or lights being improperly adjusted; 8840 came to ing the past five years, winter sports have become a major activity.

Thousands of motorists will set their courses to the popular camps located near the timber line, there to become enthusiastic, rollicking subjects of King Winter. Among them will be many motion picture celebrities.

"Quite logically, before starting on their tours to high altitudes," says a report issued by the marketers of Mobilgas and Mobiloil, "these motorists will have their

Many Wrecks Are Caused By Defects In Cars

Appalling revelation of the causes behind many traffic accidents was recently received by Lloyd Bayly, sales promotion manager of General Petroleum Corporation.

"In one year," Bayly says, "7,360 cars were involved in accidents due to punctures or blowouts of worn tires; 9,750 were involved in mishaps due to one or both headlights failing or lights being improperly adjusted; 8840 came to grief because tail lights were out or obscured; 11,890 were damaged or wrecked because of skidding; 18,690 were in accidents caused by defective brakes; 2500 met accident due to various failures of equipment. Only 28 per cent of cars examined by inspectors were found to be in good driving condition.

"These facts reveal the main reason for the Winterproof inspection campaign inaugurated by Mobilgas and Mobiloil service stations."

It is pointed out that inspection is essential to reveal the ravages of summer driving, which does things to cars. It is also pointed out that change from summer heat to winter cold imposes entirely different demands on cars, necessitating careful checkup, flushing of radiator, crankcase, gas tank, fuel lines, transmission and differential, and use of lubricants created to meet winter weather conditions.

cars inspected to insure top-notch climbing performance and prevent any mechanical damage under adverse weather conditions.

"The free inspection service, now offered in Mobilgas stations provides opportunity for this check-up."

COLD WEATHER DANGER AVERTED BY CORRECT OILING

AVOIDING OF AUTO ILLS IS EXPLAINED

Lubrication Expert Gives Pointers

Fall and winter are danger times for automobiles. This is the declaration of Marc D. Leh, the assistant general manager of General Petroleum Corporation, marketers of Mobilgas.

M. D. Leh

"We refer to this as danger time," declares Mr. Leh, "because failure to have one's car inspected and failure to change type and thickness of oil and grease may result in burned-out bearings, breakdowns and costly repairs."

"As the weather gets cold, heavy summer oils become stiff and may fail to reach tight bearings or pass through minute oil holes promptly and efficiently. The results are hard starting, unnecessary drain on battery, strain on drive and crank shafts, increased gasoline consumption and possible bearing burn-outs."

GREASES CAUSE TROUBLE
"Heavy summer gear lubricants, stiff from cold, make gear shifting difficult, add strain to driving parts, cut down gasoline mileage, do not cushion or follow the gears as they should, often causing repair bills."

"There is no better safeguard to the mechanical parts of a car than Mobil lubricants, created for the particular car and for the season of the year."

MANY LUBRICANTS
"It is the job of the many engineers of the company that produces Mobiloil and Mobil greases to provide correct lubrication for hundreds of thousands of different applications of gears, bearings and cylinders."

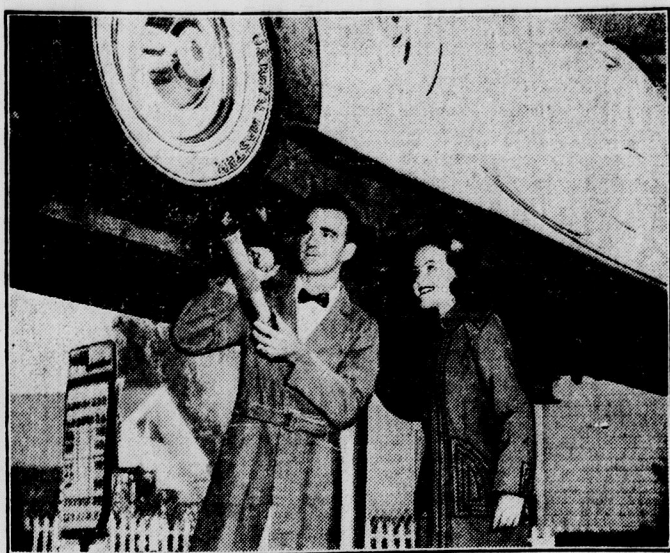

"The world wide organization with which General Petroleum Corporation is affiliated keeps fully up-to-date on these mechanisms, providing lubricants for each part of every car."

Vast Volume of Grit Is Drawn Through Motor

Abraasive material—coarse foreign particles—strained from the oil of a motor that has traveled a thousand miles, would make friction strips for 2300 packets of matches, enough to light several thousand cigarettes.

This is the startling information issued by G. F. Olsen, veteran technician of General Petroleum. He cites it as one of the main reasons for recommending that the crankcase be drained and refilled with fresh, clean, full-bodied oil at least every thousand miles. He states that the dirt and grit-laden air drawn through the oil of a motor while traveling this distance would fill an average 11-room house.

Actresses Prepare for Winter

Dixie Dunbar, popular 20th Century Fox player, learns all about winterproofing and scientific car lubrication at Mobil lubrication hoist of Mobilgas station. At right is June Lang, 20th Century Fox player, often styled "the American Venus," preparing for winter sports.

X-RAY CHART SHOWS HOW AUTO WORKS

"The most unique, colorful, accurate and interesting chart ever devised for locating various moving parts of all cars, and determining with unerring accuracy the correct lubricants for each, is now employed by Mobilgas station operators as a guide to follow in practicing the Winterproof inspection plan."

This is the statement of J. A. McClure, in charge of General Petroleum service stations throughout the entire marketing area of this company. The chart referred to is the new X-Ray Lubrication guide.

SMOOTH RUNNING
"Revealing for the first time, and in a colorful way, the hidden important lubrication points of cars that need watching to insure smooth operation and prevent trouble," says Mr. McClure, "this chart, designed by Mobiloil engineers after long and careful research, puts correct information on every kind and model of car instantly at the finger tips of station manager or assistant."

"What is more important, it enables the motorist to see the 'insides' of his car for himself. Because of this, it has attracted widespread public interest since its recent introduction. The X-Ray chart is a focal point pulling the attention of thousands of motorists visiting Mobilgas and Mobiloil service depots."

"Even women, who as a rule are not mechanically minded, are attracted to this X-Ray guide because of its colorful appearance and the easy way it reveals facts about the cars they drive."

MAGIC FINDER
"They like to work the magic finder, a simple slide-rule affair, which enables anyone to quickly find ever hidden important mechanical part of every known car."

Player Delighted With New X-Ray

SERVICING OF AUTOMOBILE REAL SCIENCE

"Modern car lubrication is a science. The man who practices it must be a real expert. Because of the technique he employs, his work makes for betterments in automobile operation, and reduces cost of maintenance."

With these pat expressions, H. W. Low, Santa Ana branch manager for General Petroleum, declares that the winterproofing movement in which all Mobilgas service station operators are now engaged will prove a boon to motorists desiring to protect their cars from cold weather damage. "correct inspection and servicing of cars, as featured during this campaign," says Low, "comes from specialized experience and careful direction. The marketers of Mobiloil oils and lubricants maintain schools where thousands of these men are expertly trained in this work."

SELF-HELP UNITS ARE EXPLAINED

Pointing out the striking differences between work relief and self-help cooperative program, and at the same time urging establishment of cooperatives on a permanent basis, the following article was sent to The Journal by Roland S. Sheppard, president of Santa Ana unit No. 15, United Cooperatives of Orange County.

There has been considerable discussion lately among the Self-Helps regarding the present and future of the cooperatives. It occurred to us in this connection that it might be well to review some of the main points on which cooperatives differ from work relief projects.

Some of us, as well as people outside the Self-Helps, are apt to forget that we came into existence not of our choosing, but because the present economic system, collapsing as it were under its own weight, made us turn to the cooperative way of living.

EMERGENCY
When we began to organize into self-help groups, a large number of us needed food and clothing immediately. "Emergency" was the war cry then. "Relief" became a by-word of every day life. That was some four or five years ago, but relief psychology still seems to persist with some cooperatives.

We are thoroughly convinced that it is high time for all of us to change our thinking from emergency relief to permanent cooperative lines.

Since some people consider work relief projects a preferable alternative to cooperatives, we are giving here a comparison of four main points in which the two organizations differ fundamentally. OWNERSHIP COOPERATIVES. Equities in the membership, work relief, all property, products, etc. belong to the state, county or other political subdivision.

In management cooperatives, management follows ownership. The work-owners manage and control their cooperatives. The democratic control is guaranteed by the rule "one member one vote." No voting by proxy.

With work relief, management follows ownership. The state, county or ERA controls the enterprise like any monopoly group.

Membership in workers cooperatives is purely voluntary. Workers are self-employed, since only workers can be members. In work relief, employment is more or less voluntary; master-servant relationship, however, is automatically set up between management and employees.

PAYMENT COOPERATIVES
Payment is in shares of what is produced, proportionate to labor contributions and depending on the individual organization's choice; and according to need.

Payment on work relief may be in shares, in part or in whole. But wage contract is established as in normal employer-employee relationship.

In brief, the difference between cooperation and work relief, from the relief-giving standpoint, is that the latter is designed to meet an emergency need, while the former suggests permanence. The cooperative may fill the needs of the industrially-displaced people, rather than answer the immediate purpose of extending aid to the temporarily-displaced.

NOT NEW
This is not an abstract theory. It is plain common sense. For unless we plan on a permanent basis, there is little hope for us to ever stand or get on our own feet.

The cooperative movement is not new, having been established in Great Britain for the last 100 years. On the west coast and in California it is comparatively new. Building a cooperative movement is a slow, painstaking process. It requires a great deal of education and serious, hard work. But it is a steadily growing movement, and the only movement that teaches universal brotherhood through mutual aid.

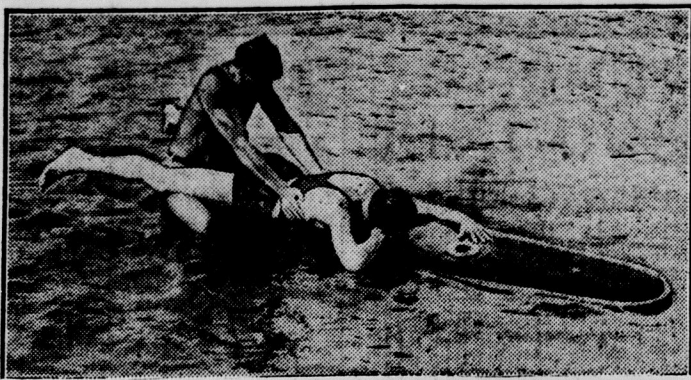

The fact that Scandinavian countries enjoyed peace and comparative safety, and security while the rest of the world had been burning in the hellish fire of its own creation, might not necessarily have been due to the cooperative movement in those countries; but it is a fact admitted by all students of cooperation that neither Sweden, Norway, nor Denmark would have been able to achieve the present degree of economic and social peace, were it not for the cooperative efforts and mutual support shown by their labor cooperative movements in the fields of economics as well as politics.

UNITS IN EUROPE
The review of world cooperation movement in a recent issue of Consumers Guide, semi-monthly publication of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, presents indeed a heartening picture to all friends of peace.

The review shows that in Sweden more than one third of the families in the country were members of cooperatives at the end of last year. About one-fourth of the families of Norway belong to the cooperatives in Great Britain "the giant of all cooperatives" some 300,000 new members were added in 1936, bringing the total membership to 7,815,000. Practically every other country reported a substantial gain in membership.

PAPER TRAVELS
BUDAPEST. (American Wire)—The world's only traveling newspaper is going strong, according to Editor and Publisher Imre Peak. He prints his newspaper, "Uti Kalondok," which means "adventures of the road," in a different town each week, using the nearest print shop and collecting the news as he travels from village to village on horseback.

NEW LISTER CONSERVES WATER, SOIL

A new soil and water saving piece of equipment has been developed by equipment manufacturers well adapted for use on the porous type of soils with 10 per cent grade or less, according to W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor.

It is called a basin lister, he said, and checks are made across the furrows, automatically. The height of the checks can be adjusted so as to be less than that of the ridges. If the furrows are made on a contour, if one check should fail, the water would flow around on the contour without washing a gully down through the field.

Basin listers make a series of basins in the field, retaining water until it sinks into the soil, Cory said. In this way water is retained on the soil where it falls, thus eliminating washing, and conserving water for the next crop. This water saving feature is valuable as every drop of rain water saved in the soil helps to produce a crop during the summer season.

A cover crop would help to hold the ridges and further reduce the possibility of erosion, besides adding green manure to the soil when worked under in the spring, he added.

STAMPS BRING PROFITS
WINDHOEK, South Africa. (AP) A profit of $560,000 has been made by the Southwest Africa post office on the sale of commemorative stamps. The sum has been credited to extraordinary revenue.

Asheim Club No. 1 is meeting at 8 o'clock tonight for a card party in the Townsend Club building at 210 South Clementine street. Refreshments will be served. This column has been asked to announce that on Saturday nights, when Townsends are in attendance at Townsend mass meetings in Santa Ana, that they do not use the Safeway Stores parking lot across the street from the hall. Saturday night is a busy time for this store, and there is need for the parking space for its customers. On any other nights except Saturday nights the Townsends are welcome to use the parking lot for their cars. This store has been very considerate of the Townsend people, and it is only fair that its request be observed.

The Garden Grove club next Monday evening is serving an oyster supper in the American Legion hall, beginning at 6 p. m. The menu also includes celery, pickles, pie, salad and coffee, and the charge is only 25 cents. Mrs. Julia Sharp will be speaker, and Grant Henderson is requested to be present to lead the song service. Mrs. Spark halls from Long Beach, and Henderson from Orange. A request that club members bring a full evening of entertainment with five acts and vaudeville be-

FARM BOY TO BE CHIEF OF U. S. NAVY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An inland state lad who got his best grades in school for his pictures of ships at sea and later churned butter with a Latin book propped beside him will be the next commander-in-chief of the United States navy.

That lad, now Admiral Claude Charles Bloch, has been nominated by Secretary Swanson to succeed, about Feb. 1, Admiral Arthur J. Heppburn as navy commander.

The son of Czechoslovakian immigrant and a native of Woodbury, Ky., a state that has given the navy several of its high ranking officers, Bloch, now 59, is a veteran of the Spanish-American and World wars.

After his graduation from the naval academy, Bloch served under "Fighting Bob" Evans on the U. S. S. Oregon in the Spanish-American war and was cited for "meritorious" service in rescuing Spaniards from burning ships of Admiral Cervera's squadron.

During the World war, as commander of the transport Plattburg, Bloch won the navy cross for "distinguished service."

In 1903, Bloch married the former Miss Augusta Kent of San Francisco. They have one daughter, Ethel, wife of Lieut. Commander Thaddeus Broom of the navy.

Navy officials at Washington announced a general shift in flag commands, effective Feb. 1.

Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, commander aircraft, battle force, with rank of vice-admiral, effective about Jan. 1.

FIREMAN SAVES 2 IN BLAZE

NEW YORK. (AP)—While 180 guests safely streamed out the doors and down fire escapes of the blazing Cosmopolitan hotel, a lower Broadway landmark, Fireman Charles Roscher was lowered by a rope from the roof to the seventh floor yesterday.

He swung in through a window and emerged a moment later carrying Mr. and Mrs. Chester McAuliffe, one in each arm. They had been trapped in a burning room.

The three were lowered to a sixth-floor window, where all were pulled in to safety. The McAuliffes had been slightly burned.

Heat Controls Whisker Growth

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (American Wire).—Whiskers grow fastest in hot weather, slow down in growth as the temperature decreases, according to a report by Dr. Paul Eaton of the Florida state board of health. Dr. Eaton measured the hair shaved from the same spot on his cheek at the same hour each day for a year, checked this with U. S. weather bureau figures.

Your Hands Reveal Personality Secrets

Palm Lines Foretell Your Fate
Is your hand like one of these? If it's conic—tapering toward wrist with fingers cone-shaped at tips—your heart rules your head. If it's spatulate—each finger flat and broad—you're independent, fearless, energetic.

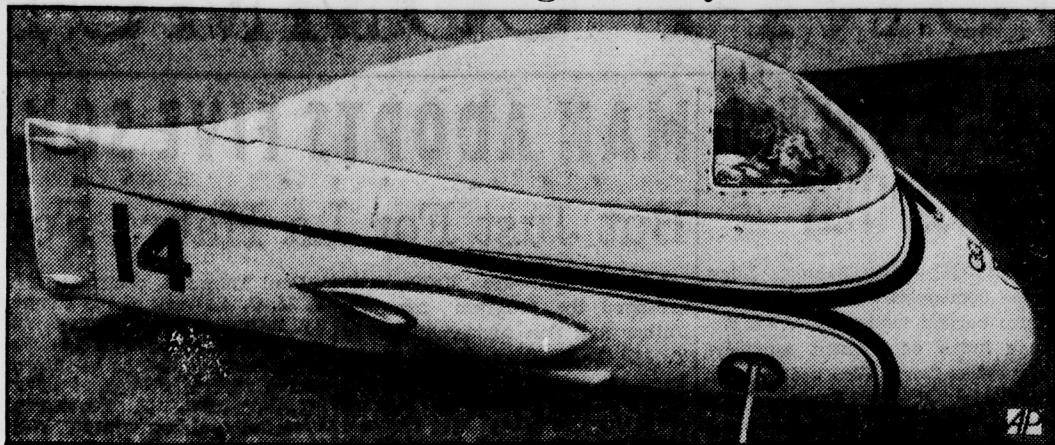

What can you tell about the owner of this conic hand? 1. Forks at beginning of Heart Line show a warm, generous disposition. 2. Head Line swoops down to Mount of Luna. She has lots of imagination. 3. Star on Mount of Venus. Sex appeal. 4. One clear Marriage Line, vertical lines rising from it. Happy marriage, children.

And how about our spatulate friend? 1. Fate Line ends on Heart Line. Disappointment in love. 2. Star on Mount of Saturn. Excitement and danger in his career. 3. Twin Life Lines. He'll come through adventures unscathed. 4. Head Line branches to Mount of Jupiter. Wealth, power.

Read palms for fun, delight your friends. You'll find diagrams and full explanations of all types of hands in our 32-page booklet.

Send 10 cents for your copy of Secrets of Palmistry to The Santa Ana Journal, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Latest Racing Motorcycle

It's a tailor-made tear drop designed for speed, latest thing in racing motorcycles, shown at Frankfurt on Main, Germany, during "world record week." For stopping the two-wheeler has an air brake in its tail. Resistance is developed by automatic opening of fin-like plates.

Engineer Contracts to Take Danger Out of Earthquakes

PASADENA, (AP)—A California Institute of Technology structural engineer has contracted with Los Angeles county to take much of the danger out of earthquakes.

"It used to be we took the attitude that Southern California has no earthquakes," R. R. Martel, the engineer, said today.

"Now we admit we have earthquakes, but let outsiders know we take every precaution to make them as painless as possible."

"The U. S. Geodetic survey made observations during the Long Beach quake of 1933 and later of the series of earth shocks in Montana. These will be of great help to us in designing safe buildings."

Prof. Martel had on his desk a device that looked like narrow cross sections of one, two and three-story houses with pliable metal walls. The houses were mounted on a common board foundation which could be moved on wooden rollers.

When he moved the board back and forth rapidly the one-story house swayed considerably, the other two hardly at all. When the space between oscillations was lengthened, the two-story house was most affected. As they were lengthened more and more the three-story house swayed crazily; then shimmied in the middle.

"If we knew the average oscillation frequency of a Southern California earthquake, we'd know which type of structure to concentrate on. But," smiled Prof. Martel, "we really need more quakes to get a good average."

He expressed belief, however, that the building code requirements for low buildings were fairly satisfactory. Most of the homes which were damaged during the Long Beach earthquake were really perched on short stilts, he said. A satisfactory foundation would have cost but little more.

Prof. Martel fears little from the up and down motion of the earth, since most floors and roofs are built to withstand four times the weight they would be called upon to bear.

He said he plans to give his first attention to assembling data and making experiments which will give information on safety requirements for the taller buildings.

He will assemble available data and try to fill in the gaps by further experiments at the institute here. Then he will make recommendations for building requirements which will provide a more ample safety factor.

Bruce Risley, organizer of the boys under the CIO American Radio Telegraphists' association, said the "strike" was called because Scott gave the union only an oral, instead of signed, promise.

The union warned that unless a written agreement was offered, the strike would spread to 500 boys in all northern California cities.

GASOLINE IS CHEAP, SAYS AXTELL BYLES

CHICAGO. (AP)—President Axtell J. Byles of the American Petroleum Institute reviewed the state of the oil industry on a keynote that "gasoline is cheap, only the tax is high."

In his annual address prepared for delivery at the first general session of the institute's 18th annual convention yesterday afternoon Byles, of New York, said gasoline prices are about half what they were in 1920 "as a result of abundance, ever-increasing operating efficiency and the keenest kind of competition."

"This industry, in good times and bad, has not only met every public obligation without asking for financial aid from the taxpayer," he said, "but is, on the other hand, contributing to the support of government in the form of taxes upon its properties, products and operations at the staggering rate of $1,181,000,000 per annum."

Byles said the tax load was only slightly less than the $1,373,000,000 the industry pays to labor and was four times the amount paid to persons who furnish the capital required.

GASOLINE SALES TAKE HUGE JUMP
WASHINGTON. (AP)—The bureau of mines reported today the daily average production of natural gasoline amounted to 5,981,000 gallons in September, an increase of 241,000 over August and 963,000 over September a year ago.

Swing Brothers Jailed on Doorbell-Ringing Charge

BERKELEY. (AP)—The young Swing brothers—Richard and John—appeared as their own attorneys in police court today and came off second best on a charge of disturbing the peace by ringing doorbells. The San Bernardino youths, students at University of California, were arrested after Robin Lampson, a writer, told police someone pushed his doorbell and ran away.

The brothers argued with Judge Oliver Youngs that one night in jail was enough punishment to fit the crime.

"There is no bargain day in my court," Judge Youngs replied in fining the boys $10 each, or two days in the county jail.

He slapped on the fine after Richard and John argued they could not have been intoxicated because it was a custom at their fraternity house to sit on their two cans of beer, when it was issued, so no one could steal it.

They agreed to serve Saturday and Sunday in jail, then remembered Saturday was a football day. Judge Youngs said any other day would be all right with him.

ROBINSON'S ESTATE SET AT $800,000

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Disposing of an estimated estate of $800,000, the will of Henry M. Robinson, financier, was on file today for probate.

The widow, Mrs. Laurabelle Arms Robinson, is named principal beneficiary with her share to go after her death to the California Institute of Technology.

In addition, the institute, of which Robinson was a trustee, is bequeathed $50,000 for an endowment in physics. Upon Mrs. Robinson's passing, the institute is to receive $200,000 for construction of the "Charles Arms Laboratory of Geological Sciences."

Two brothers, R. H. M. Robinson and Thomas L. Robinson, were left $20,000 each, together with a $50,000 trust fund for the latter.

An occasion you'll never forget

High spots of bygone days are pleasant to live again—if only in memory. Unforgettable, too, is the matchless flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee. Those who drink it will testify to that. For 59 years the unvarying goodness of Hills Bros. Coffee has been enjoyable to remember, delightful to anticipate. This is the coffee you will enjoy again and again.

NEWS OF ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

CRILL URGES RANCHERS TO FIGHT REDS

VILLA PARK.—Jack Crill, president of the Orange County Production Credit association, advised ranchers to organize their own labor groups, in order to keep out the "red-eyed" Reds, as he spoke before the Poothill Farm center Wednesday night.

He added that he had no quarrel with labor, but deplored its self-appointed leaders, who, he said, are out for gain. He believes that the closed shop will defeat itself, especially in agriculture, where prices cannot be raised to absorb the increase in wages, as in other industry.

The speaker discussed taxes, stating that everyone asks too much of the government, including agriculture. In speaking of welfare, he said that many on relief now are better able to support themselves than some of those who support the relief clients.

ORANGE JUICE HIT
Other topics included in his talk included the question of orange juice, with growers told to battle canning of juice, as it is in competition to fresh fruit, and the water question, which he said we would always have with us. He closed by telling his hearers about citrus cooperatives. Growers are getting too far from the organization of exchanges, he added, that annual meetings have deteriorated into back-slapping events. No man should be allowed to vote more than one proxy, he added, and the manager none. The houses have run in the same old rut for 25 years, he continued, and need a change.

Thomas Hight presided and Louis Pitschen was program chairman. H. H. Gardner reported that plans are going forward to remodel the Villa Park social hall where the meetings are held, at an estimated cost of $1000. Estel Coppock entertained with sleight of hand, and Harry Tritt gave the directors' report.

P-T. A. FETES TEACHERS

CYPRESS.—Fifty Orange county teachers were present at a meeting at the local school Tuesday afternoon, sponsored by the Orange county Kindergarten and Primary association.

Mrs. Gladys Potter of the state education department, Sacramento, conducted a demonstration on first grade reading procedure developed under the new socialized education program.

Attending the session were Florence Aitken and Belle Pardwell, San Joaquin; Nona Planting, Anaheim; Dora Glines, Mary Andrews, Mildred Mead, E. M. Gilbert, Isabel Lindsay, Marjorie Dalley, Johanne Eilers, Verne Wells, Henrietta Horne, Hubertene Kuennen, A. L. Glines, Reva Hawkins, and Walter A. Eggen, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Mary Lemcke, Olinde, Cora A. Thompson and Eileen McCollum, Tustin; Jo Pierce, home teacher; Helen Aupperle and Gladys Sumner, Gardena; Garden Grove; Alepha Knox Salveson, Orange; Hilda K. Ecles, Diamond school; Lola Stanley, Stanton; Fredella Keeler, Diamond school; M. Fanny Bragg, Delhi; Mary M. Culp and Esther Davis, Brea; Martha E. Schivok and Mrs. M. Smith, Placentia; Ida M. Timmons, Katella; Carmen M. Pelton and Mary Irene Coffman, Fullerton; Eunice E. Durvalle and Mabel M. Paine, Yorba Linda; Carloline Hartman, Talbert; Lurline Trundy and Mabel Looney, Buena Park.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Mabel Colburn of the hospitality committee of the P-T. A., assisted by Mrs. Harold Boose and Mrs. Helen Grindley, were hostesses at a tea in honor of the visitors.

SHOWER FETES LIDA MITCHELL

GARDEN GROVE.—Complimenting Miss Lida Mitchell, who will become the bride of Elbert L. Smith of Anaheim in a late afternoon service at the Santa Ana wedding chapel Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. W. W. Dungan and her daughter, Miss Juanita Dungan, entertained with a miscellaneous shower at their East Garden Grove boulevard home Wednesday evening.

The game "Touring Through Europe" provided the evening's diversion with Miss Beatrice Dolf and Miss Phyllis Shreeves taking score awards and the honor given the consolation prize.

Other guests were Mrs. Burns Chaffee, Long Beach; Mrs. Parks Clemmons, San Diego; Miss Ottie McIntosh, Santa Monica; Miss Roxanna Dales, Los Angeles; Miss Gladys Cockerham, Myra Lake, Madelyn Short, Dorothy Knapp, Frances Hammond, Ruby Abel, Mesdames H. A. Lake, J. L. Mitchell, J. C. Mitchell, Clyde Gedney, Leland Mitchell and John W. Mitchell.

Bruin, on Bread Line, Skips Winter Snooze

By the AP Feature Service
YOSEMITE.—Free lunch is changing the age-old hibernating habits of bears in Yosemite National park.

For centuries it has been Bruin's habit to climb into a cave or a hollow tree about the first of December and sleep until March.

Now that national park visitors and the park administration have taken to feeding the animals they show less disposition to hibernate. C. A. Harwell, Yosemite naturalist, observes the bears hanging around camps after their usual "bedtime." As long as there is food the bears are on hand. At El Portal one old fellow is treated so generously that he has given up his winter sleep altogether. The Yosemite and Sequoia park bruins, which have been under observation, are black bears.

Black bears, like this fellow, in Yosemite and Sequoia parks, discovering there's food around all winter, are passing up their long winter naps.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Here and There With Southern California Artists

By DONALD BUTTON

The more I read of Cecil Bel-frage's "Away From It All," and the more I deplore the somnolent benevolence of a fatted people, the more California becomes an escapist's paradise!

So long fettered to the English gentleman's tradition, the newly rich can scarce wait until they've thrown up a Tudor, or Georgian cloister and ridden to the hounds. Content to dawdle over tea and cocktails. In a round of satisfying self-pleasure—

One easily girds the stagnant pool with the fragrant gardenia and moves serenely on to death-in-life!

Charity seems concerned with the welfare of "society" instead of solving social problems.

Capital becomes sucker bait! Whilst society, with show of talons, exhibits self and "art treasures" out Wilshire way.

Hail they may, but just so soon as society again sinks back into the lounge of self-content—art education in Southern California has achieved no thing to be enduringly recorded in our favor!

Until the day we look beyond the glass in our hand and realize the existing need for a Museum of Fine Arts in Southern California—Until we have achieved the physical plant that museum requires—We have not advanced our cultural standards one step.

Opera may come, symphony may go, ballet is here, and chamber music gone tomorrow—these transitory delights of the few.

But until the day we offer mankind the privileges of a great museum—we stand still.

How long this, the dismal night!

Until I have seen it, the second section of the Town House show by the Los Angeles Art association is not universally recommended.

I shall look forward to seeing Grant Wood's "Paul Revere's Ride" once again.

And having been reared in the thought that "Nude Descending the Stairs" and the accompanying 1913 New York Armory Show began the showing of "modern art" in America, I could not afford to miss it.

Other representative moderns will be there in abundance, for the Los Angeles area is noted for its collections of them.

The sculpture, it would seem, leaves the greatest question mark, for there are so few capable workers in this field.

From the standpoint of quickly learning what the trends, the movements of 19th and 20th century paintings, the new showing (opening Monday) leaves little to be desired.

You'd better be sure to see it!

The Butler Art Institute of Youngstown, Ohio, has just purchased Milford Zornes' "Coal Jetty, Plymouth, England."

Butler Institute purchases of contemporary American painters have been few since 1920. That the Zornes should be one of the group is signal honor.

Zornes, incidentally, is having a triumphal eastern reception. "Owyhee Butte" (a lithograph first seen here) is in the Philadelphia annual.

The watercolors just released by Butler Institute are now at Wichita, Kan., being exhibited there by the Wichita Art association previous to its annual American Print Show.

Emil Kosa and Zornes are the only Californians in the Cleveland Water Color annual.

GROVE CLUB'S BIRTHDAY NOTE

GARDEN GROVE.—The second anniversary of the organization of the Junior Women's Civic club was celebrated Tuesday evening with a harvest dinner arranged by Mrs. Dorothy Lake, as chairman, Miss Lida Mitchell and Mrs. Dorothy Gedney. Music was provided by Charles Bustillos, violinist, and Miss Margaret Reed, pianist.

Four new members, Lillian Crane, Eulalie I. ad, Anna Lampman and Phyllis Shreeves, were welcomed by the president, Dorothy Knapp. Toasts included one by the advisor, Miss Paire Virgin, and by the Woman's club president, Mrs. P. S. Virgin. Mrs. James G. McCracken, as guest speaker, entertained with a review of the year.

During the business session, by-laws were amended to change the annual meeting from November to May and the office of secretary-treasurer was divided.

Others attending were Juanita Dungan, Ethlyn Lee, Myra Lake, Carol Forling, Gladys Cockerham, Blanche Gwynn, Frances Hammond, Mesdames Helen Gedney and Clara Louise Keach.

ORIENT TOPIC FOR LIONS

GARDEN GROVE.—The present conflict in the Far East is entirely due to the economic situation, in that Japan with its barren island without natural resources desires the fertile land of China with its abundance of natural resources, Attorney William L. Waters of Fullerton told members of the Lions club when he spoke at the luncheon meeting Wednesday. Waters, who was introduced by Program Chairman Paul Andres, recently returned from a trip to the Orient.

Following a brief talk by H. A. Lake, chairman of the Red Cross membership drive, club members subscribed 100 per cent.

Announcement was made that the Lions county council will meet here Tuesday evening, the meeting to be held at the Woman's clubhouse starting with a 7 o'clock dinner.

Shower Honors Mesa Resident

COSTA MESA.—Mrs. A. B. Schilling, 182 Rochester street, entertained Wednesday at a layette shower honoring Mrs. E. V. Mirkovich, 144 Rochester street.

Following an afternoon of games, first prizes were awarded to Mrs. Mirkovich and Mrs. James E. Frost, James Frost, Charles Pulley, Nick Suttora, Ella Burn, Anna Suttora, L. Lacey and Ruby McDonald, Newport Beach.

Present were Mesdames Sally Lyttle, Florence J. Mader, E. V. Mirkovich, A. B. Schilling, Louise Sieridiana and Sam Kinsfater.

Costa Mesa, James Frost, Charles Pulley, Nick Suttora, Ella Burn, Anna Suttora, L. Lacey and Ruby McDonald, Newport Beach.

Community Club Meets at Cypress

CYPRESS.—Members of the Community club held their November meeting at the clubrooms in the La Rue building, Tuesday afternoon.

Present were Mrs. Edith Sconce, Mrs. Hugh La Rue, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Sam Scally, Mrs. Julius Hollingsworth, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Denny, Mrs. H. H. Hammond, Mrs. J. S. Scott, Mrs. Chester Brown, Mrs. Carsten, Mrs. M. M. Carpenter, Mrs. J. J. Newell, Long Beach, Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Otis Switzer and Mrs. Colvin.

Purchases Co-Op Exchange Store

COSTA MESA.—The Co-operative Exchange Feed store, operated for the past two years at 2240 Newport boulevard, opened this week under the independent management of Chester Fisher and A. M. Nelson. Fisher formerly operated the concern for the co-operatives.

Nelson, who recently arrived from Nebraska, has purchased residence property on East Twentieth street and plans to make his home here.

Shower Honors Mesa Couple

COSTA MESA.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elmer were honorees at a recent grocery shower and charity given by the Epworth league of Community church. After carrying the Elmers through Santa Ana, Newport Beach and Costa Mesa on a truck decorated with clanging pots and pans, the group returned to the Elmer home on Walnut street, where ice cream was served to the 20 guests present.

50 at DeMolay Card Party

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—More than fifty persons attended a benefit card party staged by the Huntington Beach chapter, Order of DeMolay, in the I. O. O. F. hall last night. Auction and contract bridge and 500 were played. Refreshments were served by members of the chapter.

MEATS SUBJECT FOR CENTER

ORANGE.—Miss Frances Liles, home demonstration agent of the Farm bureau instructed West Orange home department members in meat cookery, Wednesday when they met at the Farm bureau office. She also displayed home made Christmas gifts, and announced a demonstration in paper craft to be held Nov. 18 in the Farm bureau assembly hall. Mrs. Eleanor Minter and Mrs. Carl Plegel assisted.

Mrs. Perry Grout, new president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. J. F. Mueller reported a talk made by Holmes Bishop at the convention held at the Farm bureau last week. The talk told of the danger to our government from movements that advocate complete disarmament. Thirty-three members were present.

ORANGE CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

VILLA PARK.—The annual Thanksgiving luncheon of the Modern Priscilla club was held Wednesday at the Knott Berry farm, Buena Park, where a chicken dinner was served. Mrs. Louis De Long was in charge of arrangements.

Taking part were Mesdames C. S. Crawford, J. A. Bergen, H. D. Nichols, George Holditch, George Carraker, Albert Hughes, Joe Adams, Louis De Long, John R. Ragan, Ralph Susdorf, Arthur Streech, H. H. Gardner, Walter Rasch, W. M. Tipple, Miss Margaret Holditch and Miss Elizabeth Lee.

Following a brief talk by H. A. Lake, chairman of the Red Cross membership drive, club members subscribed 100 per cent.

Announcement was made that the Lions county council will meet here Tuesday evening, the meeting to be held at the Woman's clubhouse starting with a 7 o'clock dinner.

MAN ADOPTS FIVE SONS

LA HABRA.—Ira Weide, who arranged the program for the Father and Son turkey dinner of Y. M. C. A. clubs of La Habra Tuesday night at the Methodist church has no sons, so he made up for it by "adopting" five for this occasion, and taking them all to dinner.

More than 100 attended the banquet, when Dr. Harry Ovinge of the Santa Ana Baptist church was speaker.

FIRE TRUCK CEREMONY SET

COSTA MESA.—Joe Scherman, county fire chief, acting on behalf of the state forestry department, will present Costa Mesa with a new $10,000 specially built fire truck at a banquet and program to be given Wednesday noon in the Women's club house, Morris Crawley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

Members of the county board of supervisors and leaders of all Costa Mesa civic organizations will participate in the ceremony.

ORANGE CLUB ELECTION SET

ORANGE.—Jack Sanford and Martin Nieweg were nominated to the office of president of the local 20-30 club Wednesday night, with election to be held in two weeks.

Harold Thomas and Travis Flippen were nominated for vice president; Joe Wilson and Harold Post for sergeant-at-arms, and Bob Windolph, Willard Gallely, Carl Krueger, Don Parsons, Vincent Paine, Melvin Clement, Walter Meier and Ford Underwood as directors.

A program of vocal music was presented by Mary Ann Erwin, Geraldine Perry, Wanda Thompson and Travis Flippen. A reading was given by Fred Engel. A. C. Myracle presided and Stan Wilson was program chairman.

BARNETT RECOVERS

CYPRESS.—Clair Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Barnett, is recovering from an emergency operation which he underwent at the Orange county hospital, Saturday night.

FIREMEN AT MESA SLATE BENEFIT BALL

COSTA MESA.—The first annual firemen's ball, to be given Nov. 19 under the auspices of the Costa Mesa volunteer fire department, is to be the biggest event of the season, Ed Edick, general chairman of arrangements, said today.

Tickets are now being sold by many community leaders, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the fire department. Ham Yost and his six-piece dance orchestra, of Huntington Beach, will provide the music.

Several prize dances are being arranged and a door prize of a 15-pound turkey has been donated by Frank Vaughn, of the Derby ranch.

The event is to be given in celebration of the new fire hall, upon which work is scheduled to start soon.

Osborne Is H. B. Lighting Head

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Will H. Gallienne, chamber of commerce executive secretary announced today that W. R. Osborne will head the chamber of commerce Christmas lighting committee. He was appointed Monday night at a board meeting of the Chamber by President M. M. McCullen.

Mayor W. H. Warner, who was originally appointed as chairman, asked to be excused from the chairmanship owing to a large amount of civic activities. Huntington Beach this year is again participating in the coastline "Forty Miles of Christmas Smiles" contest.

NO ROOM for the Cat

It is too bad that Kitty has lost his warm resting place, due to the fact that this new model electric range is built cabinet style, with usable space completely to the floor.

But Kitty's loss is Mother's gain. She does not have to worry about lint collecting under the range. And she has a new storage place for pans, convenient to their point of need.

An electric range brings Mother other advantages. It's cleanliness means that less work is required to keep pans, walls and curtains bright and fresh. Its speed and convenience are other welcome features.

The other members of the family, too, approve an electric range. Sister likes its simplicity. Dad its economy. And Brother likes the good things to eat it produces!

Everyone in the family...with the possible exception of the cat...welcomes an electric range. The new models are very reasonably priced. See them at your electrical dealer's.

SUICIDE CRATER...

While nearly every large metropolis has its famous "Lover's Leap," the greatest monument to self-destruction stands today as Mount Mihara, a volcano on Oshima Island, near Tokyo, Japan. In the past six years more than 2000 Japanese have joined their ancestors by hurling themselves into the hot lava from the crater's lip. In 1936 alone, 619 persons were officially known to have sacrificed their lives to the Fire God for Mount Mihara for 619 unfathomable reasons. Alarmed at the high suicide rate of Oshima Island, the smaller inter-island steamship company that runs boats from Tokyo to Oshima decided to stop selling one-way tickets in an effort to discourage would-be suicides. And, strange as it seems, the alarming suicide rate has actually increased the population of Oshima Island rather than decreased it! The sulphurous pit of Mihara proved to be such a morbid lure to tourists that the steamship company has added new ships and doubled up its sailing schedule.

'Have Nots' Have Less

While the three great dictatorial powers of the world—Japan, Italy and Germany—continue to make steady military or diplomatic gains, all three of them are developing startling new financial and economic weaknesses, weaknesses which may either drive them into new aggressive excesses or, possibly, cause them to crack and disintegrate.

Japan's trade balance is running strongly unfavorable; her gold stock is dwindling to near the vanishing point; her trade advantages are disappearing as steadily as her armies advance.

Italy, as we recently pointed out, has been forced to make a 10 per cent capital levy on its corporations; this following what amounted to a five per cent capital levy last year on all real estate holdings.

In Germany, the trend of affairs is indicated by the fact that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht has at last been allowed by Hitler to resign as economics minister. He it is who, for several years past, has been able by shrewd management and clever barter arrangements with other countries to save the German economy from breakdown.

The conditions on which he insisted, if he were to remain in office, were that business be relieved of much of the grievous load of armament costs; a temperate foreign policy to encourage trade; a let-up in the anti-Jewish crusade in the interests of exports; and the abandonment of devaluation, inflation and other unsound policies urged in Nazi party quarters.

But Goering triumphed in his contest with Schacht, and the latter's ideas apparently are shelved. As one writer has observed, "Certainly, now that Schacht's sturdy support of orthodox capitalism has been removed, the Third Reich moves a step nearer state socialism. The militarists probably will have an even stronger hold on the nation's revenues than they now have." Fascism's inevitable remedy, foreign war as a means of obtaining food and raw materials, thus seems more certain.

A man is accused of smuggling nine cows in from Canada. Technically the problem is whether he is a beef smuggler or a milk smuggler.

Progress Toward Better Government

In the past 100 years science has practically remade civilization.

Airplanes and automobiles have replaced horses and buggies, radio and telephones have supplanted the private messenger and pony express, electrical and steam power have taken the place of human brawn and the labor of dumb beasts, efficiency has ousted much of ignorance and carelessness from the machinery of commerce and business, progress in the political field has been slower—but nevertheless it is coming along.

One kind of progress being made today is the scrapping of the outworn and vicious spoils system in favor of civil service and the merit plan. The theory is that when a man gets a job on merit and not political pull he does better work.

That is why scores of cities, counties and states have adopted the efficiency and fairness of the civil service plan.

This civic improvement is being fought in some places just as the steamboat, sewing machine, electric light and use of anesthetics were battled in their day by those who wanted everything to remain in status quo.

Other modern inventions have prevailed, however, and there is little reason to doubt that civil service will eventually come into its own.

Meanwhile a "yes" vote at the polls here Tuesday will bring civil service to local policemen and firemen and should usher in better and more efficient service.

Barking spiders are annoying that Texas man again. If he would only call them pink elephants his folks would know what to do for him.

Peculiarly American

In just a very few days a wave of new mechanical beauty and perfection—the 1938 automobile—has swept the nation from top to bottom and from side to side.

Once again we are all amazed, not to say dumfounded, at the miracles American automotive engineers and American workmen have wrought.

The nation again is paying tribute to their craftsmanship, their genius. It is paying tribute in the most substantial way imaginable, by buying or preparing to buy the new and racy beauties that will soon adorn the highways.

Beautiful as they are, perfect as they seem, the constant work of improving will still go on.

Perfect? That's what people ask Charles F. Kettering, vice president in charge of research for General Motors, the man whose genius has done much to make the automobile as nearly perfect a creation as it is today.

"Practically every year at the auto show someone says to me, 'What more can you do to improve cars? They seem just about perfect now.'"

"My usual answer," says Mr. Kettering, is "Well, I hope they're not. If they are, I'll be out of a job."

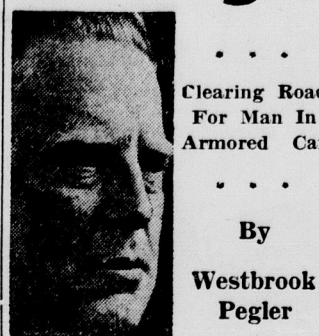

This has been going on, he says, for 25 years, and there's still no predicting what improvements this year or next will bring forth.

The automobile industry, itself as miraculous as its product, is peculiarly American. Its watchword could well be taken at this time as the watchword for all American industrial and commercial activity:

"Improve, produce, distribute."

Hitler offers to settle the dispute between Japan and China. What big teeth you have, grandma.

FAIR Enough

Clearing Road
For Man In Armored Car

By Westbrook
Pegler

Suppose someone on the order of Huey Long became president, with a majority in congress ready to ratify any crazy idea of his in return for some personal graft and some mock jobs for their good-for-nothing relatives.

The president would have a lot of press agents at work for him, pounding away on the notion, advanced by the New Deal press agents, that the election returns were a blank check mandate and that the party majority in congress had no right to turn down any proposal sent over from the White House, no matter what. That would relieve them of all responsibility, and encouraged by precedent, they would demand a cut on all the insurance and bonding business pledged by people and big corporations desiring to stand in with the government and a kickback on liquor and radium permits and a percentage on all public orders for school books, office supplies, building materials, paving contracts and just everything.

NEPOTISM RAMPANT

They would stick their unsuccessful brother-in-law and their wives onto the payrolls of private companies for doing nothing or merely going through the motions of doing something, and this would become notorious in the land, but the president and the majority in congress would just laugh at the shrill protests of the minority that all this was dishonest and sinful.

Encouraged by precedent, they would refuse to use their power to expose the details of the graft, and the administration press agent, taking a cue from the politicians in this line of justification under cover of the sacred mandate from the majority, would say that it was petty and reactionary to mention such trifling imperfections in the execution of great, fundamental reforms intended to make every man a king.

BREAKING THE OPPOSITION

A few scrappy individuals in private business would try to refuse the demands of the majority statesmen for jobs for their relatives and try to place their influence and business with their old and trusted agents. But after a while they would find their own customers drifting off to deal with firms enjoying the approval of the administration and if they still resisted would find their taxes raised and their firms and individuals would be jerked into court under indictments charging violation of the income tax, also with the sanction of the very distinguished precedent, and after a while all but a few stubborn dissenters would be going around to call on some pal of the president—someone with no particular office in the administration, but just a confidential access to the White House—to see if the trouble couldn't be straightened out.

So the confidential pal would say, "Why sure, it was silly to have trouble, because, after all, it was cheaper by far to go along with the boys in their great patriotic plan than to pay lawyers and accountants to battle away in the courts. And the loss of business and the constant state of upsetment were certainly too great price to pay for mere stubbornness. So why not be reasonable and toss that insurance and bonding business over to the right party, who was, after all, a great kid if you got to know him?"

THE LOUISIANA PRECEDENT

Well, all right, and then what about the income tax indictments? Oh well, on second thought they seem to have been the result of overzealousness on the part of young lawyers in the treasury, and to make a name for himself, and purely technical in character. And, anyway, didn't you ever hear of the Louisiana purchase? Not the first one, but the second one. A very important precedent—the second Louisiana purchase.

Of course, there would be a few obstreperous anti-administration statesmen in congress who would want to sink a pick into the crust of the scandal and let out some of the fumes, but, again, according to precedent, the majority, pursuant to the second mandate, would refuse to let them have the floor unless they first agreed not to raise questions intended to embarrass the administration and obstruct the great humanitarian reform.

Strange precedents are accumulating rapidly, and when, finally, the proposition is established that a popular majority constitutes a mandate superseding the responsibility and duty of congress, everything will be all set for the man in the armored car.

CURED

"Yeah," said the sophomore, "when I came here I was pretty conceited, but they knocked all that out of me—and now I'm perhaps the most popular fellow in college."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 12, 1912

INDIANAPOLIS—At least 16 persons were killed and 15 seriously injured this morning when an inbound Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton passenger train ran into an open switch and crashed into a freight train at Irvington.

SAN FRANCISCO—Wilson took a 47-vote lead over Roosevelt in California at noon today with five precincts in Wilson territory still to be heard from. Unofficial returns since election day a week ago had consistently given Roosevelt a slight lead in the state up till today.

FULLERTON—The marriage of Abe Fritchard, a prominent orange grower of Fullerton, and Miss Bertha Howard, was announced today. The couple left shortly after the ceremony for a week's vacation in Santa Barbara.

The home of E. H. Turner, 604 East Fourth street, was visited by a daylight burglar this morning, and the man or men made a thorough investigation of every room in the house, apparently looking for hidden money.

Journalaffs

By ART SHANNON

Howdy, folks! Joe Bungstarter's neighbors are pretty sore. It seems he left his bedroom window open one morning while he was hunting for his collar button.

Joe Bungstarter told his young son this morning that the hole in his khaki jacket was made by a German machine gun bullet, but Mrs. Bungstarter said it was just a myth. Or a myth.

WAR MYSTERY

One of the great mysteries of the war, as yet unsolved, is why army supply sergeants always gave a soldier a hat three sizes too small and shoes three sizes too large.

The height of militarism is when a gink voluntarily wears spiral puttees.

Some weary of well doing, but most of us of being well done.

"If you were condemned to die," queries a lecturer, "what kind of a death would you choose?" That's easy. Old age!

THE CHARM OF VENICE

A young woman who had returned from a tour through Italy with her father remarked that her father liked Venice best of all the Italian cities.

"Ah, to be sure," said the family friend, "I can readily understand that your father would prefer Venice with its gondolas and St. Marks and Michaelangelos."

"Oh, no," said the young woman, "it wasn't that. Father could sit in the hotel, you know, and fish out the window."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's note: This is the first of three Merry-Go-Round articles on the foreign problems now engrossing the Roosevelt administration.)

Special session called to forestall ominous developments abroad; FDR may ask revision of neutrality act so U. S. can assist China; army, navy prepare for emergency enlistment, Alaska naval bases; Davis telling British to "put up or shut up" about "cooperation."

WASHINGTON—It has scarcely been mentioned outside of cabinet meetings, but one of the big reasons the President called the special session of congress was the ominous international situation.

Number One: He wants to clear the domestic decks of all necessary legislation in case there are serious developments on the foreign horizon.

Number Two: He envisages the possible necessity of going to congress to ask for a revision of the neutrality act so that an embargo could be imposed against Japan, but not China.

So far, the neutrality act has not been invoked, and it is no secret that the reason is Roosevelt's desire not to handicap China. A large portion of her munitions have been coming from the United States.

Without getting into scare headlines, several things have been taking place recently that indicate how seriously the administration views the international situation. One is an emergency enlistment plan perfected by the army. Another is a series of letters sent by the war department to reserve officers asking how many would be able to join the army on a permanent basis.

Also, the navy has stationed an added number of vessels near the Aleutian islands, which just out into Bering sea from Alaska toward Japan. These islands have been quietly equipped as submarine and air bases during the past few years. Naval commanders along the Pacific coast have received emergency orders assigning sailing destinations in the North and South Pacific in case of serious developments.

While significant these moves should not be considered causes for alarm. The army and navy always are forehanded, sometimes because the wish is father to the thought, and many of these preparations may have been taken without the President's knowledge.

DICTATORSHIPS VS. DEMOCRACIES

However, the basic factor to be remembered in the international situation is that Roosevelt sees the dictatorships of Europe and Asia gradually hemming in the democracies. This is the key to almost every move he has made or is likely to make in foreign affairs.

In discussions with navy and state department advisers he has said that he was looking 50 years ahead—not one year or five. His thesis is that if Japan bites off part of China she will become one of the most powerful nations in the world, economically and from a military viewpoint. She will become this country's chief competitor, also its greatest potential enemy.

In discussions with the British this same viewpoint has been emphasized, although Roosevelt has not talked to the British personally. Secretary Hull and other state department officials have done the talking.

There's a rumor that the next issue of "Who's Who in Russia" will be published in loose-leaf form.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters and flail that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion. The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

POLITICAL CHANGES

To the Editor: Last week the Journal printed the story of the celebration by J. M. Talcott, of Santa Ana, of his 98th birthday. In Mr. Talcott's lifetime, the ox team and covered wagon have been supplanted by the automobile, streamline train and airplane; while the scythe, cradle and flail have given place to the mowing machine, self-binding harvester and combine thresher.

Having endeavored to be a consistent man, Mr. Talcott states with pride that he regularly voted the Republican ticket. Political changes during that period, however, have resulted in his voting, consciously or unconsciously, both for and against important, and sometimes paramount, political issues.

In 1860 our now venerable fellow-citizen supported the Republican party, which then held that human rights were superior to property rights; but in 1936, and prior thereto, he with sublime beatitude voted for the same party after it had reversed itself on that issue and notoriously placed property rights above personal welfare.

In 1860 and 1864 he voted against the doctrine of "State Rights," while in 1936 he voted in favor of that doctrine; for, in the meantime, on that issue, to use the language of a prominent Republican, "The Republicans and Democrats changed partners in the political dance."

In 1860 Mr. Talcott voted for a tariff sufficient to offset the difference between wages and costs of production at home and abroad; but 76 or 40 years later the policies he voted for permitted industrial and mining agents to import low-wage foreign laborers, who displaced American workers whom the tariff was ostensibly designed to protect; and in 1928 and 1932 he unintentionally voted for a tariff extension by the Smoot-Hawley Bill, which—as predicted by 1000 scholars, economists and publicists, who signed a round-robin protest—ruined our export trade.

In 1888, Mr. Talcott, in supporting the Republican ticket, voted for reciprocal trade agreements with foreign countries; while in 1936 in supporting that ticket he voted against such reciprocal trade agreements then promoting the export of citrus fruits, to the advantage of California.

In 1924 and 1928 he voted for the Republican party, which then held that the gold standard was indispensable; but in 1936 he voted for the same party, which did not then demand, or even mention in its platform, the restoration of the abolished gold standard.

In 1904 Mr. Talcott voted for Theodore Roosevelt, and for the conservation of our national resources: soil, forests, mines, petroleum, water power; while in 1936, 1924, 1920 and 1912, in voting the same party ticket, he opposed everything Roosevelt stood for.

In 1904, 1908 and 1916 he supported candidates who stood for an income tax and inheritance tax; but in 1924 he voted for Mellon and Coolidge and Dawes, and obviously directly against income and inheritance taxes.

In 1924 and 1928 Mr. Talcott voted against John W. Davis and Alfred W. Smith, respectively; whereas in 1936 he voted with them, and on the same ticket.

The political scenes and issues, during Mr. Talcott's long and useful life, have been continually shifting. In the numberless battles between guardsmen for special privilege, on the one hand, and the champions of the rights and interests of the people, on the other, due to the fact that the former "know no politics but plunder," and by reason of the ever varying fortunes of the contests, it has sometimes been impossible for the citizen to know in advance just what he was voting for.

SHARPLESS WALKER.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

People who are quiet and meek around an office usually hold their jobs a long time but they don't advance very fast. "I'll tell you," because the boss is apt to forget that they're around.

My uncle Paddy was one of them. He had been workin' in an office for years and years without gettin' an advance in salary and one day, he finally mustered up enough courage to go in and ask the boss for a raise. He walked in so quietly the boss didn't hear him and kept on going, going through some papers on his desk.

Finally Uncle Paddy cleared his throat and the boss looked up with a start and says, "Well, what do you want, Paddy?" Uncle Paddy says, "Sir, I have been here twenty-five years." The boss looked down at the floor where Uncle Paddy was standin' and says, "So you must be the guy that wore that ugly hole in the carpet!"

O. O.

NEW YORK.—Thoughts while strolling. No artist rips open the stuffed shirts and reveals the straw like Peter Arno. Nor can any of the stage smirkers top Jimmy Durante. Vincent Astor's walk is almost a gallop. If I had his dough I'd just money along. Royal tradition forbids speaking harshly to anyone. So-o-o, that's why no one knows what the Duke thinks of the Archbishop of Canterbury. But most of us have a sneaky idea. Impossible street scenes: Howard Chandler Christy without pipe and dog. Memory: Photo by Sarony.

Teeth wide apart celebrities: Henry L. Doherty, Katharine Cornell and Harold Ross. The town's only unsigned columnist: Simeon Strunsky of the Times. And a fine one, Pierre Cartier sounds like a detective out of a French novel. And Abercrombie and Fitch sounds scratchy.

Put a monocle on Doris Duke's husband, Jimmie Cromwell, and you have a grown-up Charlie McCarthy. Mrs. George S. Kaufman has one of those white feathers in her hair, too. A fellow you see everywhere: Eddie Wasserman. Capsule review: Ernest Hemingway's latest is just another grand dirty book.

Never saw Harry Kemp, the poet, north of 14th street. Amusing book title: Mme. Alda's "Men, Women and Tenors." Swallowing a ripe plum name: Gelett Burgess. Funny Sayings Department: If Professor Quixote ever met one of my aunts he'd feel pretty amateurish.

Art Kuder, whose advertising agency is handling the publicity side of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor's tour, is one of the spectacular successes of his field. Starting from scratch, he has developed an enormous organization, occupying elaborate offices opposite St. Patrick's on the avenue. He flies in his own airplane to his ranch in New Mexico for week ends. In appearance he suggests Karl Lachar with a full crop of hair. Kuder is not socially minded and the idea of arranging the press contacts was suggested by a mutual friend of Kuder's and the Duke.

I was in a mixed crowd a few evenings ago, when they read limericks with the lid off. I hate limericks in a crowd and by wholesale. It brings out that silly lascivious look on men's faces and is worst on the faces of women. One has a touch of shame for the human race. A limerick is a thing for a late-19th-century one or two is like having too much caviar. I somehow dread seeing the animal come out on people's faces.

Any Vanderbilt, of the collateral branch, who side without whopping wealth, has become one of the town's sprightliest publicity ladies as well as contributor to the magazines. A Lucy Stoner, she is the wife of a young department store executive and lives on Staten Island. Note: Vanderbilt, Cornelius, Jr., seems determined to ever to write, knocking about America and Europe in his de luxe trailer, the original free lance of the aristocrats!

Nellie Revell was the first woman press agent doing a grand job for a string of vaudeville houses. Today, despite many bumps, she refuses to accept the Mark Twain dictum that life is a swindle, and is active in writing and broadcasting. Since Miss Revell blazed the trail, women press agents are plentiful and successful. Both in New York and Hollywood. Two in New York are reputed to receive salaries of around $30,000.

Much press agent material comes to my desk, naturally. And as a former member of the craft my attitude is sympathetic, but the fact is little is usable. It is largely mimeographic pap. The late Walter Kingsley was the ideal press agent, from the writer's viewpoint. He studied the columns dug up gems of paragraph possibilities and polished them up as they were well nigh flawless. And he winnowed more high class publicity than any other ballyhoos of his time.

My favorite soda jerker is devoting off moments to minninging. He thought this one right up out of his own head. "Little drops of soda, little grains of pie, make the drug counter profits mount sky high."
